Religious Cult's Purchase of House On Hodge Rd. Opposed by Neighbors

Neighbors are indignant, shuddering as they say things like "Threat to the neighborhood!" or "Property values!" But the state finally found somebody to take 142 Hodge Road off its hands.

A certified check for $21,250, representing the required ten percent of $212,500, the high bid of five, is in possession of the state's Division of Purchase and Property. The only thing remaining for John and Dianne Desiderio is to pay the state the remaining $186,500–all at once, no mortgage allowed–at the time of contract closing

According to reports, the Desiderios belong to a communal religious cult called "The Friends" (no relation to Quakers). It is said that the group wants to settle in the Princeton-Trenton area because there is money in Princeton's real estate market, and a lot of students to convert to the group.

Before bidding, the Friends had already set up a real estate office called Inspiration Homes, Inc., at 134 Nassau Here and there, as they have moved about the state, the 150 members of the group have reportedly left a trail of bad debts Although Inspiration Homes, Inc., is a relatively new firm in town, it already has acquired annoyed creditors who have cut off any further credit for the group.

The Friends are apparently led by George Jurcsek, who has converted them to his own philosophy said to consist of Hinduism, astrology, brotherly love, meditation. Underlying the group's beliefs is a firm conviction that the end of the world is at hand, and that they should make as much money as they can as rapidly as they can

An eye on Princeton's real estate market seems to have convinced them that this was the place to settle. Also, since Mr. Jrcsek's organization goes back to Fairleigh Dickinson, on whose campus he started the Friends eight years ago, the various campuses of the Princeton community may have seemed like fertile fields for prosletyzing

When sale of the property was announced last week, Borough Mayor Robert W Cawley was quoted in Trenton newspapers as saying he was attempting to reach Governor Brendan T. Byre to see whether he could stop the sale.

However, when asked for additional comment at his Monday press conference, Mayor Cawley smiled and said he'd been advised by lawyers that he might have said too much already.

Neighbors of 142 Hodge, operating under no such restriction, have rallied around Howard Menand, Jr., who lives next door at 140 Hodge. He said he had enlisted about a dozen families on Hodge or backing up to the property, urging them to "get in touch with the Governor and ask the state to re-consider."

"It's a threat to our property values," Mr. Menand declared

Although The Friends are known as a commune, it is not known how many of them plan to move into the house, with its ten bedrooms and five baths.

Not more than five unrelated people can live in the house, under the Borough's zoning ordinance. The R-

Meeting Planned to Seek Solution For Closing of Stony Brook Bridge

After a ten-month wait, a reply has finally come from Mercer County to the Township's August 1 letter about the Stony Brook bridge on Mercer Road.

The bridge was closed last week by the county (see story, page 1B) because county engineers felt it was unsafe. In a press release issued this Tuesday, Township Committee asks the County Executive Arthur Sypek, "to instruct the County Engineer to meet with us to reach an early and expeditious solution to the problem."

Although Township officials have apparently not been in touch directly with the county, Mr. Sypek's office anticipated the press release and announced a meeting for Thursday, June 15, at 7:30 in the Mercer County Administration Building (Room 211).

Present–or at least invited–will be representatives of the county engineer's office, Township Committee and Lawrence Township. Freeholder Barbara Sigmund, who lives in Princeton–although in the Borough–and the Freeholders' president will also be there.

Administrator Joseph R. Nini said the meeting had been put together without conferring with Township officials about the convenience of date or time.

In its press statement, Committee gives first place to the closing of Mercer Road

"An extended closing of the Mercer Road crossing is an unreasonable hardship upon Princeton residents and is therefore not acceptable," Committee states.

Officials then repeat their preference for repairing the old bridge rather than building a new one, even a two-lane bridge instead of a four-lane one, which the county now says it's willing to build

"Should competent engineering analysis demonstrate that repair is not feasible," Committee says, "we are anxious to explore other solutions."

And a four-lane bridge is not regarded as a "tolerable solution." Requirements regarding flood-plain encroachment and stream blockage would mean a fairly massive structure which would not only "degrade the area by its very appearance," the statement says, but would eventually have attracted more traffic, and high-speed traffic at that.

The August 1 letters to James B. DiLouie, assistant county engineer for bridges, made the same points, but also acknowledged that the old, curving bridge would still "offer danger to imprudent drivers." Better warning devices would help here, the letter said.

Committee's views were endorsed by Borough Council, the Historic Society, Battlefield Area Preservation Society, Historic Sites Committee, Mercer Hill Associates and the Stony Brook Association.

A SCENE FROM THE PAST: The first annual benefit for Princeton Hospital was held on the grounds of the Columbus Boy Choir School in June 1954. This year's Silver Fete will take place Saturday on the Washington Road field. See story Page 5.

1 zone, where the house is located, allows roomers. But no more than two rooms may be rented, to be occupied by a total of no more than four.

"Five and four are nine," says Borough engineer George Olexa, "and that's all they can have over there."

Inspections Permitted. The house must be maintained as a single-family dwelling. If there are such things as hot-plates in the rooms or locks on the doors, then it isn't a "family," Mr. Olexa says. Inspections, under the ordinance, are allowed.

The house was originally bought by the state to house the family of Ralph Dungan, when he was commissioner of higher education. When he left that job, his successor said 142 was too large, and moved into an apartment in the state-owned mansion called "Drumthwacket" on Stockton Street.

The Hodge Road house was allowed to fall into disrepair, inside and out. Mr. Menand has carried on a one-man campaign to get the state to maintain the property, but without much success. Earlier attempts to find a buyer were unsuccessful.

Members of the cult have bought many properties in Mercer County and have bid unsuccessfully for even more. In one interview some time ago, Mr. Jurcsek is said to have boasted that if each member of The Friends obtained a personal loan, the group could quickly raise half a million dollars.

If they cannot raise the remaining $186,500, they lose not only the house but their down payment as well.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Desiderios will be legal owners of the house, the group itself is said to have non-profit status in New Jersey. If the Desiderios turned over ownership of the house to the group, the Borough might find itself unable to levy property taxes. The Borough has already had to wipe the house off its tax rolls once because the state was the owner.

PLANS POSTPONED

For Hearings on Square. Palmer Square, Inc. has agreed to let the Borough go first and has put off its Planning Board appearances until September. PSI needs approval from the Environmental Design Review Committee (EDRC) and the full board for plans to expand Palmer Square north and east.

The Borough hopes it will be heard this Monday by the EDRC so it can move ahead with the parking garage; however, the EDRC agenda is already so full that the Borough may have to wait in line.

The municipality may flex its muscle and elbow aside the private applicants; otherwise, the Borough might have to wait until fall because the EDRC cannot summon up a quorum for either July or August.

Under state law, incidentally, a municipality needn't go through any of the planning process at all for its own projects. The Borough, however, has deliberately passed ordinances requiring that it be treated like any other property-owner. It could, of course, amend these measures and provide free passage for itself through planning channels.

1,646 Bachelor and Advanced Degrees Awarded At University's 231st Commencement Tuesday

Princeton University conferred a total of 1,646 bachelor and advanced degrees Tuesday morning at its 231st Commencement.

There were 743 men and 310 women in the graduating senior class–a total of 1,053 recipients of bachelor's degrees. The undergraduate degrees included 851 bachelors of arts and 202 bachelors of science in engineering. Of those awarded undergraduate degrees, 478--or 45 percent--received some form of honors: 87 highest honors, 157 high honors, and 234 honors; 47 percent of women received honors and 45 percent of men.

In keeping with long tradition, the two principal Commencement speeches, the valedictory and the Latin salutatory addresses, were delivered by members of the graduating class, Eric S. Lander of Brooklyn, valedictorian, and Frank E. Ferruggia of Newark, salutatorian. President William G. Bowen delivered brief remarks at the conclusion of the ceremonies.

The 582 advanced degrees included 224 doctors of philosophy; 222 masters of arts; 46 masters of science in engineering; 45 masters in public affairs; 22 masters in fine arts; and 23 masters of architecture and urban planning.

Those graduating from the School of Engineering and Applied Science are the largest class of engineering seniors in the school's history. They represent over 90 percent of the freshman class which enrolled as engineering candidates four years ago. Fourteen percent are women, compared to approximately 3 percent nationwide.

Six Honorarles. The University bestowed honorary degrees on five men and a woman. Dr. Willard Thorp of 428 Nassau Street, Holmes Professor of Belles Lettres, emeritus, at Princeton, received the Doctor of Letters. Harrison A. Williams, Jr. United States Senator from New Jersey was awarded a Doctor of Laws.

Other recipients included A. Bartlett Giamatti, president-designate of Yale University; Vernon E. Jordan Jr., president of the National Urban League; Nobel Prize Winner Rosalyn S. Yalow, senior medical investigator for the Veterans Administration and Distinguished Service Professor, Mt. Sinai School of Medicine; and Nani Ardeshir Palkhivala, Indian Ambassador to the United States.

Four outstanding New Jersey secondary school teachers received prizes of $1,000 each at the Commencement Excercises. They are Gertrude M. Clarke of Chatham High School; Mary E. Cudemo of Lenape High School in Medford; Alfred Robins of Hamilton High School West and Joan Stadtman, Morris Hills High School, Rockaway.

Established in 1959 by a gift from an anonymous Princeton alumnus, the prizes recognize "fruitful teaching and devoted service" in New Jersey schools. An additional grant of $250 is made to the school of Scholar of American Literature. Prof. Thorp, a graduate of Hamilton College who received his master's and doctoral degrees at Harvard and Princeton, respectively, was a member of the Princeton faculty for 41 years, from 1926 to 1967. He was co-founder and later chairman of the American Civilization Program and chairman from 1958-63 of the English department. He was a visiting summer professor or lecturer at eight other universities and is the author of 11 books and four anthologies.

His citation read:

"Perceiving that the study of American literature could not go forward until the canon had been established and the history defined, with other pioneers in his field he oversaw the compilation of the monumental 'Literary History of the United States.' His work remains the basis of the extensive scholarship and criticism we now take for granted as the discipline of American literature. A man of discriminating judgement and catholic knowledge, he is revered by the members of 41 Princeton classes as a giant among teachers, to whom scholars of the present and the future owe their gratitude."

CAR IS TOTALLED

After Reming Hydrant, Fence. An 18-year old Princeton driver was charged with careless driving and operating an unsafe vehicle after he struck a fire hydrant and fence early Saturday morning on Hodge Road.

Timothy J. Olney, 78 Stockton Street, was treated at Princeton Medical Center for contusions and abrasions of the forehead and left leg and released. His 1967 sedan was a total wreck.

According to Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt, the Olney car was traveling at a high rate of speed when it struck the curb of Hodge Road just past Lafayette Road shortly before 3 in the morning. It left behind 238 feet of skid marks.

The car continued on for another ten feet before striking a water hydrant, breaking it from its mounting place. Its momentum still not spent, the car smashed into and damaged a 30-foot board fence on the property of J. Richardson Dilworth, 141 Hodge, and continued on for another 28 feet through bushes and small trees on the Dilworth lawn before coming to rest.

Plt. Lenhard noted in his report that both rear tires of the Olney car were bald. A second accident the following day occurred some 60 to 70 feet away from the same site and involved a hit-and-run driver. No one was injured.

More Property Damage. There were two single car mishaps early Saturday morning in the Township.

At 1:28, a car driven by Dwight M. Wilson, 19, 4574 Province Line Road, was rounding a curve on Winant Road between Edgerstoune and Russell Road. It hit a tree and damaged the lawn, trees and shrubs in front of 120 Winant. A passenger, Whitney Sander, 20, was treated at the Medical Center for head lacerations. There were no charges.

At 4:32, David M. Stager, 21, 16 Juniper Row either fell asleep, he told police, or his car made a sudden lurch to the right. His car struck a church sign on Harrison Street near Terhune and a utility pole. Mr. Stager sustained lacerations of the face and was treated at the Medical Center.

In another single car accident in the Township, John K. Enright, 28, 2687 Main Street, Lawrenceville, lost control of his car while turning left off Faculty Road onto Washington Road. He also received head cuts when his car struck a pole in the Friday morning mishap.

Intersection Crash. Both cars had to be towed away after a collision around 6 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of Valley and Jefferson roads.

Jean Gray, 76, 17 Madison Street, was charged by Ptl. David Wilbur with failing to yield after stopping for the Jefferson Road stop sign. Her car hit the left front and side of a car driven by Carl W. Schafer, 42, Lake Lane.

Mr. Schafer received contusions and abrasions. MacHenry Schafer, 9, complained of back pain and Mrs. Gray suffered chest and shoulder injuries.

A truck blocking the view of a driver triggered an accident last week on Route 206 at Mountain Avenue.

Vanessa J. Lucarella, 21, 1864 Stuart Road West, told police she was preparing to make a left turn onto Mountain Avenue when a truck blocked her view. As she turned, her car struck another car headon coming in the opposite direction. The latter was operated by Catherine T. Tuttle, 30, of Somerville. Mrs. Tuttle sustained contusions and abrasions of the head; Ms. Lucarella was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way.

The word is "moon"
To rhyme with "June"
But I'll take "sun"----
It's lots more fun.

Sun is in the picture, the Man reports — after the usual mid-week rain forecast to arrive Wednesday and spill over into Thursday.

The cool temperatures that have dominated the early morning hours since Sunday will gradually be replaced by readings more normal for June. Precipitation for the month is expected to be above average, but nothing like the eight - plus inches which May produced. That was nearly triple the average rainfall for these parts.

Ready, All? Silver Fete Will Be Held on Saturday

What is the Silver Fete? It's an auction tent filled with more than 75 pieces of sterling going up for bid. It's lambs and pigs in a petting zoo and 1,008 quarts of strawberries.

It's an art gallery and a tent filled with plants and herbs; a 10-kilometer run and 7,000 hot dogs and hamburgers; a fun house, entertainment throughout the day and outstanding shopping buys.

After months of work, The Silver Fete will be held Saturday from 9 to 6 on the Washington Road field.

Co-chairmen Mary Ann Linton and Lynne Long point out that this is a very special Fete, too, for it celebrates the 25th anniversary of this annual benefit for the Medical Center at Princeton. (See following story.) Volunteers from that institution's Auxiliary, sponsors of the yearly event, as well as from other organizations throughout the area, have been working most of the year to make the Silver Fete a sterling success.

Auction a Tradition. Silver, including some very valuable one-of-a-kind items, is a natural feature for the auction tent this year, but lucky bidders can also go home with china and crystal, furniture, jewelry, camping gear and countless accessories. Volunteers will be on hand from 1 to 6 Friday and from 8 to 9 a.m. Saturday, to accept sealed bids from those unable to stay the entire time.

Auctioneers Lester and Robert Slatoff will hold an appraisal clinic from 1 to 4 Friday, at the auction tent. Items donated to the Fete will be appraised free; otherwise, there is a $3 fee.

The Lane of Shops will have gourmet items, second-hand clothing, flea market treasures, original artwork and handcrafted gifts. The Gazebo, the Garden tent, will have all kinds of plants and garden accessories.

For the children, there will be a petting zoo, games of chance and skill and exciting rides. The Wookie Wagon, this year's fun house, will provide laughs for everyone, and at 3 entrants in the "Hospital Feet" will set off on a 10-kilometer race. (See Page 13B.)

For the hungry and thirsty, there will be concessions selling hot dogs and hamburgers, soda, pizza, tacos, ice cream and more. Fete-goers may also take home some strawberries, frozen casseroles and homemade salad dressing.

Free shuttle buses to the Fete grounds will run from the Princeton Shopping Center and from the Public Library on Witherspoon Street throughout the day. There is no admission charge to the Fete, but there is a car parking fee of $1.

SILVER KITES FROM A SILVER FETE: Michael and Mathew Byrne and Rebecca Carchman show off their silver kites which will be available at a booth at the Fete this Saturday. Hours are 9 to 6 at the Fete grounds off Washington Road.

Hospital Fete, Incubated Quarter-Century Ago, Will Mark Its Silver Anniversary on Saturday

The Princeton Hospital Fete will celebrate its 25th anniversary of its origin when it takes place Saturday.

The fete is an annual event that is run and supported by volunteers from Princeton and the surrounding communities for the benefit of the Medical Center. Volunteers spend months organizing the shops, food booths, tents, auction, entertainment, raffles, publicity, programs and the Friday night dance that precedes the fete.

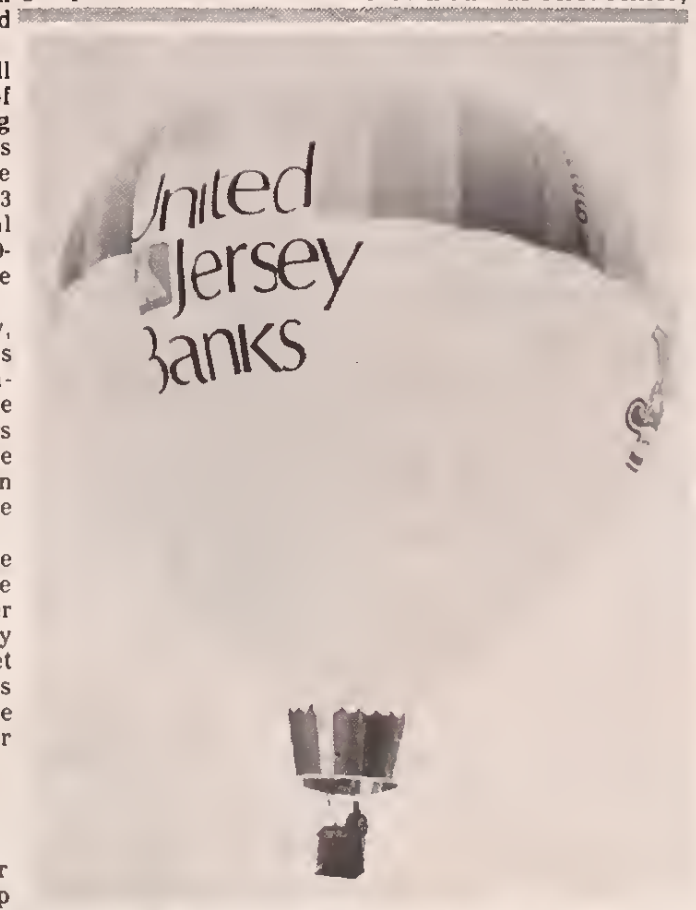
Last year's fete saw 40,000 people come to the Washington Road grounds to sample the fares or help run the event. Bank vice-presidents and surgeons may be doing sanitation work for the day while business executives are directing cars and parking. Service, fraternal and professional groups as well as schools and churches provide food and aided by several other women in the community.

Since 1954, $997,500 has been donated to the Medical Center for the building and equipment funds. Proceeds have helped purchase a cystoscopic room and a cast room, as well as a lobby and reception room at Merwick and support for the nursing school.

A Chance Meeting. It all began in 1953 when Mrs. David Miller met Mrs. Donald Griffin, a trustee of the Medical Center and head of the Woman's Auxiliary, and described to her a June Fete that had been a successful fund-raising event in her former hometown of Abington, Pa. Mrs. Griffin and fellow trustee member, Mrs. R. Kenneth Fairman, presented the idea to the other trustees and gained their approval. The first fete chairman was Mrs. Miller, staff games.

In June, 1954, the first Princeton Hospital Fete was held on the grounds of the Columbus Boychoir School and netted $9,947. The fete turned out to be both fun and profitable and so became an annual event.

Many changes and additions have altered subsequent fetes, such as the introduction of a yearly theme and the Friday night dance. The location has changed several times, too, from the original site of the Boychoir School to Palmer Stadium, various university fields, Westminster Choir College and Community Park, to its present home since 1967 at the West Windsor fields on Washington Road.



AIR OBSERVER: United Jersey Banks' balloon wil be featured at the Princeton Hospital's 25th anniversary Silver Fete Saturday, weather permitting. The giant multi-colored hot air balloon provided by the First National Bank of Princeton has flown at similar charitable events throughout New Jersey. This will be its first appearance where spectators will be able to see the balloon on display.

5% RAISE FOR POLICE

In Township. A two-year contract with the Township police force has been drawn up and will be acted on when Township Committee meets (8 p.m.) this Wednesday in Township Hall.

Police officers will receive a five percent raise this year and a five and one-half percent raise in 1979. A new feature of the contract this time around is a full family dental plan with the Township assuming all costs. In addition, officers will receive two personal leave days instead of one each year, and two more vacation days.

A first year officer who now receives $12,600, goes to $13,230 this year and to $13,958 in 1979.

Committee's agenda also includes action on an agreement with Elizabethtown Water Company to use the company's Balcort Drive water tower for a "repeater" station in the Township police radio system. When the new system is installed at Borough Hall--probably early this fall--it will require a booster so that Township police can pick up signals on the north side of a ridge in the northern section of the municipality.

Committee will also hold public hearings on Race Street parking regulations and the acceptance of Thanet Road into the street system.

MAN IS ARRESTED

On Bogus Check Charge. Terry A. Weiner, 23, 11 Charlton Street, was arrested Sunday evening at his Charlton address by police who had a warrant for him.

He is alleged to have passed two worthless checks totalling $600 at Cox's Store, 182 Nassau Street. Weiner was later released in $100 cash bail after being charged with two counts of issuing worthless checks.

ACTION ON ELM ROAD

Final, for Bike Path. Borough Council expects to pass, at its meeting next Tuesday, the ordinance paving the way for a six-foot-wide asphalt bike path on Elm Road. Public hearing will be held, but Mayor Robert W. Caweley said pointedly at his press conference this week that Council expects to pass the ordinance.

Elm Road neighbors have protested the path at several hearings and once got so far as persuading Council to introduce another ordinance calling for a four-foot-wide concrete path. But it's back to the old plan, Mayor Cawley said.

Also on Tuesday, Council will hold public hearing on its $77,000 parking garage ordinance. This one is for part of architect John Fujiwara's fees.

The Landmarks Ordinance may be allowed, in Mayor Cawley's words, "to cool it over the summer." Depending on how Council feels at its agenda session this Thursday, public hearing will probably be put off until after Labor Day.

A PRINCETON LANDMARK: Jeanne Silvester (left) and Claire Miller, coordinators of the forthcoming bus tours of Princeton sponsored by the Historical Society, pause by the grave of Richard Stockton at the Quaker Meeting House, a stop on the tour. The tours will take place June 10 and 17 from 2 to 4. For reservations call the Society, 921-6748. (Ruth Wilson photo)

BUS TOUR PLANNED

Of Historic Princeton. A two-hour bus tour of Princeton conducted by the Historical Society will take place on Saturday, and again on Saturday, June 17, from 2 to 4. A guide will be aboard the bus to talk about places of interest along the route.

The bus will stop at the Quaker Meeting House, an 18th-century stone building that was used as a hospital during the Battle of Princeton. The building will be open for the tour so that visitors may see the interesting interior. A stop will also be made to visit the Princeton Battle Field and the Thomas Clark House, a pre-Revolutionary farm house that is furnished to look as it did in 1777.

In addition, the tour will highlight buildings of particular architectural importance, such as the Steadman houses, as well as those of historical interest–the residences of Thomas Mann, Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson, Albert Einstein, and T.S. Elliot.

The bus will depart from and return to the Acme parking lot in the Princeton Shopping Center. The fee will be $5. For reservations telephone the Historical Society, 921-6748, between 10 and 4. The Society's exhibit rooms will be closed for cleaning June 13, 14, and 15.

You're Invited to Consolidation Meetings

Borough and Township residents are invited to their municipal halls Monday at 8 p.m. to talk about the possibility of consolidating the two Princetons under the new state consolidation law.

In the Borough, the meeting will be held in the ground floor lounge of Borough Hall under the sponsorship of the Borough Citizens' Committee for a Consolidation Study Commission.

In the Township, residents are invited to the Committee room in Township Hall. Hosts will be the Township Citizens' Committee for a Consolidation Study Commission.

The two committees will give particular attention to explaining the part of the law that calls for election of a joint consolidation study commission; how members of that commission are nominated and elected; what their duties are and how the public will vote on actual consolidation, if that's what the commission recommends.

Both committees are now obtaining signatures on petitions to have election of a study commission on the November ballot.

RAPIST SENTENCED

Assaulted Borough Girl. A part-time Trenton bus driver, who admitted sexually molesting a 14-year old Borough girl last October while she was jogging along Elm Road, has been sentenced to 30 years in the Avenel Adult Diagnostic Treatment Center.

Superior Court Judge A. Jerome Moore passed the sentence on Bryant L. Taylor, 23, in Trenton last week, after the court declared him a sexual offender. Taylor could be released, however, anytime during the 30-year period upon the discretion of a doctor.

Taylor also confessed to assaulting a Township girl and a Borough girl last October and to raping a 16-year old South Brunswick girl, who was cycling along a road in Kingston.

In a plea bargain agreement with the Mercer County and Middlesex County prosecutors, Taylor pleaded guilty to the carnal abuse of the 14-year old Borough girl, the rape and the two assaults. Lesser charges were dropped.

CONCERT RESCHEDULED

By Scottish Folksinger. Scottish Folksinger Jean Redpath will appear in concert on Monday at 8:15 p.m. at All Saints Church. The concert, sponsored by the Princeton Folk Music Society, is a re-scheduling of a program originally set for May 19, but postponed because Ms. Redpath was ill.

Admission is $3, $2.50 for students and senior citizens, $2 for members of the Princeton Folk Music Society (memberships are available at the door), and $1 for students below high school. There are no advance ticket sales.

RIB IS FRACTURED

In Service Accident. Sixty-four year old Michael Perna of Perna's Body Shop on State Road suffered a fractured rib, cuts and abrasions Friday when he was involved in an accident while making a road service call on Battle Road.

Mr. Perna was attempting to start a camper truck, police said, when the camper suddenly lunged forward, knocking him to the ground. The transmission was belived to have been in "park" but was actually in "drive", police said. Mr. Perna was treated at Princeton Medical Center and released.

ADMINISTRATOR SOUGHT

At Borough Hall. If you have administrative experience, in business or government, and if you know the town of Princeton, you're invited to apply at Borough Hall for one job that will lead, almost automatically, into another.

Administrator Robert F. Mooney retires next spring. The Borough wants to hire an assistant administrator now, who will take over when Mr. Mooney leaves. But most applicants for the job--and there have been almost 200–have been right out of school with new, fresh degrees and almost no experience. Only three have been formally interviewed, and Borough Council would like to look at some more.

Salary: negotiable. Experience: more important than a degree.

TWO ARE FINED

For Careless Driving. Two Princeton residents were fined $30 each last week in Township court for careless driving.

Judge Philip Carchman levied the fines on Elizabeth L. Brown, 110 Dodds Lane, and Letticia Aquilar, 11 Red Oak Row.

WALLET IS STOLEN

From Olden Street Kitchen. Between 10 and 11 Friday night, someone entered an unlocked rear window of an Olden Street home and stole a wallet containing $9 from a kitchen table.

The victim said he did not realize the wallet was gone until he found it the next morning–empty–in the yard.

Township police report an attempted break-in last week in a Meadowbrook Drive home.

The owner told police she was awakened by her son between 1:30 and 2 a.m. The dogs began barking and she heard a loud banging on the front door. Looking out the window, she saw a six-foot man wearing dark clothing and a dark ski mask standing on the porch. When she bolted the door, he ran off.

BARBER POLE DAMAGED

Replacement Cost $300. A barber's pole at the rear of Honore's Barber Shop, 39 Palmer Square, was damaged by vandals during the weekend, and police listed the replacement cost at $300

In two acts of vandalism involving parked cars in the Township, a Harrison Street resident told police that the rear window of his Mercedes had been shattered by a beer bottle, and Willie Bullock, 108 Leigh Avenue, reported that the windshield of his car parked on Leigh had been knocked out. The gauges in his car had been damaged and the hood also dented--all by a tire iron, police said.

Renee Biddle of Trenton was charged the vandalism and issued a summons by police.

Parents Group Forming

In light of the proposed cuts in state funding of special education programs, a group of parents of children in the Princeton Regional Schools plans to form a Princeton Committee for Special Education, a parent advocacy group to assure the continuation of existing programs and to press for improvements. Its goal is "to further the interests of children who have special educational requirements."

Parents of children from elementary through high school, classified children as well as those receiving supplemental help in math, speech or reading, are invited to attend a meeting to organize the committee and to explore the needs of their children on Monday evening, at 8 in the staff center of the Valley Road Building. For further information, call 924-6815.

BREAKS THREE WINDOWS

Youth Is Arrested. Overall, Capt. Theodore Lewis reported, Reunion Weekend was on the quiet side, as far as Borough police were concerned. He reported two incidents.

Peter M. Scott, 19, 80 Stockton Street, was arrested at 4:10 Sunday morning after Proctor Frank Grover and Ptl. William Hunter reportedly saw him break three Holder Hall windows with his fist. He was charged with malicious damage to property and later released.

A 16-year old Township youth was found at 4:14 Saturday morning lying on a Prospect Avenue sidewalk near Cedar Lane.

Police report that the youth had allegedly been drinking at the 25th reunion site near Holder Hall and was "very much under the influence." He was released to his father at 4:45 a.m.

Want a Stall in Borough's New Garage?

If you want to rent a stall in the new Borough parking garage, you may sign up anytime between this Thursday and the end of June–first come, first served. (See ad, page 2.)

You'll be asked to sign a legally-binding "Letter of Intent" and to make a down payment of $84, which is 20 percent of the annual rental of $420 ($35 a month). If the garage isn't open by December 31, 1979, you get your deposit back.

Anyone can sign up: business firms, individuals, stores. The slot will be yours all day, from at least 6 a.m., until midnight, six days a week. Mayor Robert W. Cawley said this week that the Borough may want a two-hour parking ban to make sure car owners don't use the garage for permanent storage.

This is not a final agreement, the mayor explained, but it is legally binding. And of course, you may sign up for more than one space; in fact, for as many as you want.

The Borough will accept up to 550 agreements; after that, there will be a waiting list. Architect John Fujiwara hasn't yet made a final count of the exact number of spaces in the garage–it depends where air-conditioning equipment and internal stairs are located, and so on.

The legally-binding letters of intent are required so that the garage can qualify for the state's "self-liquidating" designation. Mayor Cawley said this week that he hopes to meet in mid-July with John Lazza of the Department of Community Affairs to affirm that designation. It would mean the Borough could borrow construction costs outside its legal debt limit.

CUT PROPOSED

In SpecialEducation. Consideration of a proposed $27 million cut in state funding for special education is on the agenda this Wednesday for Township Committee, and is the focus of concern by the Princeton school board and parents.

A new, forming organization, tentatively called the Princeton Committee for Special Education is inviting parents to a meeting on Monday at 8:30 p.m. in the staff center of the Valley Road building.

Organizers suggest that a group of parents might be helpful in obtaining necessary funding for special classes and could serve as an advocacy group for children with special needs. Parents would like to know how the community feels about special education and how—or even if—parents should organize. Organizers of the group are Maxine Farmer, M.A. and Sharon Tomalin and Marion Roemer.

No figures are yet available for Princeton on the effect the governor's cut would have. Opponents of the governor's proposal are asking support of ACR-94, an "assembly concurrent resolution" which would, if passed by both houses of the legislature, continue the present funding formula.

Since state law requires provision for students with special needs, money would have to be drawn from elsewhere in the school budget, points out school secretary William Evans.

MACHINES VENDING $$$

To Thieves. Approximately $700 was stolen from vending machines last week in the Borough.

Police report that three vending machines in the basement of the Engineering Quadrangle off Olden Street yielded $400 and approximately $300 in change was removed from another on the first floor of the Woodrow Wilson Building on Prospect Avenue. In both instances, Cpat. Theordore Lewis said, the machines had not been forced open.

Three men's suits valued at $125 each and a stereo AM-FM 8-track unit valued at $150 were reported stolen from an unlocked room in Foulke Hall on the university campus.

A Township woman lost her wallet containing $16, a platinum wedding ring and a platinum engagement ring when her locker was entered last week at the YMCA. The rings were valued at $500 each.

At the same time, a Bordentown resident had her red leather wallet containing $18 stolen. Both victims were in the gymnasium and had left their locker key on the bleachers, according to police.

Pocketbooks Stolen. There were two pocketbook thefts. Lawrence Court resident had her tan pocketbook stolen Thursday at Firestone Library–it contained $4 and credit cards and a Nassau Street resident had her wallet taken last Wednesday between 1 and 3:30 from a table on the first floor of the Public Library. The victim lost about $1 in change but valued the wallet at $20.

A Princeton University student was the victim of a quick theft last week while she was walking between Alexander Hall and Blair Hall.

Police report she was carrying several items including $35 when a teenage girl came up behind her, bumped her and grabbed everything from her hand. The victim chased the thief to Witherspoon Street but couldn't catch her.

The suspect was described as black, 4-8 to 4-10, wearing a white top and green shorts.

That old standby, a CB radio, valued at $100, was stolen from a car parked in the Tulane West lot. The victim, an employee of the Athenian Restaurant on Witherspoon Street, told police the left vent window had been forced open. She discovered the theft at 12:45 Friday morning.

Three radios were stolen during the night from cars left at Perna's Body Shop, 830 State Road. An attempt to remove rear speakers from one of the cars was unsuccessful. Two of the cars were unlocked; one was forced open.

A $50 battery was removed from the car of a West Windsor resident between 9 Saturday night and 12:15 a.m. Sunday while it was parked in a lot off Hulfish Street.

In the Township, Public Service officials are looking for 800 feet of half-inch yellow rope.

It was unraveled from a spool 25 feet from ground on a pole located at Cherry Hill and Stuart Roads. Valued at 13

There's nothing like the convenience of a checking account when you have a lot of bills to pay.

And nothing like a savings account when you want to put your money to work.

But not Bank-by-Phone customers of Princeton Bank and Trust Company.

A most interesting aspect of Bank-by-Phone

With Princeton Bank's unique Bank-by-Phone service, you can transfer money from checking to savings or from savings to checking just by picking up the phone and calling a special number. TROOP 43 GIVES $2500

For New Dock at Scout Camp. Scout Troop 43 of the Nassau Presbyterian Church, as part of the celebration of its 60th year as a troop, has donated $2500 to the George Washington Council for a new dock at the Yards Creek Scout Reservation inBlairstown.

Half the money was raised through a fertilizer sale, the other half was contributed by parents and alumni. The waterfront is one of the most important activity centers at scout camp, and the new dock is expected to be appreciated by scouts this summer and for years to come.

When Not Earning Rave Reviews, PHS Choir in Charleston Goes to Opera, Ballet, Sees Zulu Dancing, Tours Fort Sumter

WHERE THEY SANG: A view of the Circular Congregation in Charleston, S.C., where the 65-member Princeton High School Choir sang as the chorus in Gian Carlo Menotti's "The Egg." The choir was prepared by Nancianna Parelle and William Trego and was also heard in a performance of choral selections and in a concert for brass, organ and voices.

Editor's Note: The Princeton High School Choir will return Sunday from its three-week participation in the Spoleto, U.S.A. Festival in Charleston, S.C. The following account of its experiences was written by Mrs. Tady Hunter, author of the Princeton regional School's "Highlights" column.

Take five dozen assorted teen-agers with a common denominator of choral music; enlist them with their parents in a whirlwind of fund-raising activities; add a dash of double-time academics; and then send them to Spoleto '78.

What kind of comments do you hear? A Charleston journal should include the rave reviews printed in the Charleston papers, but to begin at the beginning....

When Amtrack made a special atop at Princeton Junction to entrain the PHS Choir and chaperones, the train pulled out again with two parents still on board; fathers Clark and Roth had to be "rescued" in Trenton (and one other had barely escaped moments before.)

Southward from Washington, the choir had an entire car to themselves "so we wouldn't bug the other passengers," said Anne Vial. "It was a ball--we had a disco in the aisles."

A Common Bond. Once settled in the Charleston College dorms, the choir's responsibilities for rehearsals and concerts were scheduled into each day, but time for seeing the town and meeting its people was included. There's much similarity between Charleston and Princeton; historical events and buildings, gardens, the importance of heritage, native pride.

Steve Wright and Stefanie Weigmann discovered southern hospitality at its finest on a walking tour through an old district; they entered an office and talked with an elderly nurse who exuded much warmth and graciousness. Vicki Phillips was also charmed by what she saw. "People here are so nice and friendly," she wrote. "I'm so glad we arrived before the city was flooded with festival-goers."

Steve Magee said, "There is too much to do. The Festival and the city offer so many different things that it is impossible to get them all done.

"In the first short week, the choir members have had the chance to see two operas, a ballet, two Intermezzi concerts, Zulu dancing, tour Fort Sumter, and visit the Public Market, old mansions, and the art museum." This list doesn't include the concert and reception at the Porter-Gaud School, a prestigious private school in Charleston. "Our concert was the best they'd heard," reported the choir.

"Come on to...!" A swimming party and picnicking with the school's students was planned–and the weather was just right for this activity. Some singers had taken to the water earlier on the group's tour of Fort Sumter. With the tide out and the water warm, the wading was perfect - all the way out to a nearby sandbar.

Meeting Gian Carlo Menotti has been quite an experience. He's been described as brilliant and exciting; "even the great are human," wrote Anne Vial, after noticing that the Maestro wore sneakers to rehearsal.

The opportunity to see 'La Traviata" in rehearsal was a welcome one. "Opera is fascinating," said Karen Van Dyck, "once you get over the trauma of hearing a soprano hit a high E-flat while lying on her deathbed." As luck would have it, the scene was then changed and repeated, so the choir saw Violetta die twice in the same opera!

"We're working hard but enjoying every minute," each singer choruses a similar motif. Some of their work has been in doing--and redoing--laundry together, according to Ted Vial. Jeanne Casciola's travel iron really travels in an ever-widening circle to combat humidity and wrinkles.

Relaxation time is spent in acquiring a tan, playing soccer or tennis, practicing (for the instrumentalists), and even in arranging surprise birthday parties. There's time, too, for making long-lasting, deep friendships within the group and for working together on a trip yearbook to recapture in words and pictures each magical, musical moment.

Reviewer Moved to Tears

"It is a rare occasion indeed when a seasoned reviewer and mature musician is moved to tears by what he hears at a concert today--especially when the performers are young high school students."

This is how one review in the Charleston, S.C. Evening Post began. The writer went on to praise "the consistency of razor-sharp intonation in music which was primarily a capella," "the focus of tone with nary a trace of breathiness," and "the exquisite tonal balance."

Another reviewer wrote, "The impact of the Princeton High School Choir opening "The Egg" with full chorus singing fortissimo in the darkened church lifted some from their seats. This chorus has done a magnificent job in the appearance here this season."

LET'S TALK ABOUT

INSECTS MAY STEP UP ATTACK ON WINTER-INJURED TREES

by Sam deTuro

Many trees are in a weakened condition in the Northeast this spring. Spring rains have helped, but many trees are still suffering from hangover effects of the last two severe winters.

One result is that leaf feeding insects (defoliators) if allowed to go unchecked will further weaken trees. Repeated injury to and loss of leaves by defoliating insects will often predispose a tree to attack by borers and secondary fungi.

To avoid pests stripping trees, we suggest prompt spraying as soon as presence of the insects are detected, says Sam deTuro of WOODWINDS.

Fertilization at this time will reduce effects of insect attack and help to revitalize your trees.

PEOPLE
In The News

For the 16th consecutive year, the 32 year-old Council of Community Services has honored a Princeton area resident for distinguished volunteer service to the community.

At its annual meeting the Council paid tribute to Sarah Campbell (Sue) Coale of 155 Edgerstone Road for her efforts over the years to bring new health and educational services to the entire Princeton area. Mrs. Coale was cited as an outstanding example of the influence one volunteer can exert in organizing, shaping and monitoring the social services of her community.

In the early 1950's, Mrs. Coale began working toward improvement of library services in Princeton as Chairman of the Council's Library Committee and eventually organized the Friends of the Princeton Public Library in 1961. She served as president of the board of trustees of the Joint Princeton Public Library in 1962-63.

Mrs. Coale was also instrumental in developing the Whitney Center which opened in 1960 as a unit of the (then) Child Guidance Center of Mercer County and for the next five years was a member of the Center's advisory committee. From 1970-77 she worked in many capacities on the board of Community Guidance Center of Mercer County.

Continuing her long association with Council, Mrs. Coale served on the Education and Welfare Committees and in 1972 was appointed Chairman of the Health Committee. During her tenure she has been concerned with the accessibility of both physical and mental health services, preventive health education and the delivery of primary care to all individuals.

SEVEN SISTERS IN BIRTHDAY REUNION: When Mrs. Mary Harrell, fifth from left, celebrated her birthday in May, six of her sisters decided to surprise her by arriving simultaneously from Charlotte, N.C., Chesterfield, S.C. and Massillion, Ohio. The seven enjoyed an informal luncheon Saturday, a weekend of reminiscing and a formal dinner on Monday. From left are: Mrs. Glennie McBride, Mrs. Cora Cash, Mrs. Sarah Leak, Mrs. Winnie Floyd, Mrs. Harrell, Mrs. Edith Smith and Mrs. Ethel Biddle. Mrs. Harrell, who is also known as Ms. Handy Andy was recently cited for her volunteer efforts at Princeton Nursing Home. She lives at 154 John Street.

New Jersey Supreme Court Chief Justice Richard J. Hughes, who lives at 80 Westcott Road, has been selected Citizen of the Year by the Mercer County Chamber of Commerce board of directors. He will receive the award June 28 during the chamber's annual golf and tennis outing at the Princeton Country Club in West Windsor.

Born in Burlington, the chief justice has spent most of his life in Mercer County. He opened a private law office in Trenton in 1932 and went on to become U.S. Attorney for New Jersey at the age of 30. He served as a judge in the District Pleas and Superior courts and was elected to two terms as governor.

As a member of the region 6 AIAW Small-College runner-up champion tennis team, Carleton College senior Anne Williams of 19 Maple Street has qualified for the national AIAW tournament in Santa Barbara, Calif. A 1974 graduate of Princeton Day School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan D. Williams, she was the captain of the Carleton team and played in the number two spot most of the season.

Randy Symington of 140 Heather Lane will enter Columbia University in the fall. He was a member of the crew at Deerfield Academy.

Kent Godfrey of 17 Crescent Avenue, Rocky Hill, has completed his second season as a member of the Babson College baseball team at Babson College, Wellesley, Mass. A sophomore, he was starting pitcher for Babson and led the team in innings pitched. He allowed only six extra base hits in 42 innings and was second in strike-outs.

The righthander's best game was a complete game 2-0 shutout of Suffolk in which he struck out four and did not walk anyone. He is a 1976 graduate of Montgomery High School.

David F. Buhler of 44 Scott Lane has been accepted as a new student at Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash. for the fall semester.

Lawrence T. Ellis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Ellis of Burnt Hill Road, Skillman, has been elected secretary-treasurer of student government at The Lawrenceville School. He is also president of the Afro-American Cultural Organization, vice-president of the Math Club and the Glee Club, and a member of the track team.

Alexander R. Stevenson Jr. of 28 Montgomery Avenue, Rocky Hill, is one of two juniors at Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Me., who will share the Bertram Louis Smith Jr. Prize in English Literature. A graduate of Montgomery High School, he is a Dean's List student, majoring in English and art history.

Daniel J. Fath of 48 Linden Lane has been accepted for a special week summer program at Berklee College of Music in Boston.

Elizabeth D. Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Rose of Blawenburg, is one of 48 students at Colby-Sawyer College chosen to be a student counselor for the 1978-79 year. She is a freshman in the theatre program.

Weody Watt, 60 Montgomery Street, Princeton Junction, has been elected to Kappa Delta Pi, an honor society in education, at the University of Delaware.

Christopher S. Lyding, son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Lyding, Broadripple Drive, will enroll as a freshman in September at Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa., where he plans to major in political science. A senior at The Hun School, he is a high honor roll student, assistant editor of the school newspaper, and a member of the New Jersey Chemistry League.

Gross Negligence Charged.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The old bridge across Stony Brook at Mercer Road has been closed to traffic by the County Engineer, who is threatening to keep it closed until Federal money is made available for a new bridge and for improvements to the approaches on both sides. The five year estimate suggested by the County Engineer to accomplish such improvements is most optimistic.

By the time such a project materializes we will have passed through the remaining years of the auto age and be back to the horse and buggy, which the County Engineer correctly points out was the means of conveyance in the early 19th Century when the bridge was designed. In those days they not only knew how to build bridges but they also knew how to maintain them. This bridge has survived the auto age for 80 years and with proper maintenance could go on for many more. The County's neglect of the structure constitutes gross negligence.

Citizens who are inconvenienced by the closing of this bridge should know that a year ago a number of letters were directed to the County Engineer on the subject. It should be understood that among the obstacles to obtaining Federal funds quickly are the following: (1) Creating a thoroughfare along Mercer Street, which is really what is proposed, will meet with intense opposition from local citizens. (2) The bridge and its approaches are within a National Historic Site and before Federal funds can be utilized for new construction in such a site a compelling need for the new structure must be demonstrated to the U.S. Dept. of the Interior. (3) There would be required a study of traffic patterns and a survey of alternative routes for moving the traffic from other than Quaker Road over the bridge and onto Princeton Pike.

The bridge should be restored to operating condition immediately and persons who suffer inconvenience as a result of its closing should address letters to that effect not to the County Engineer but to the County Administrator, Arthur Sypeck, and to the County Freeholders.

Township's Flood Control Requirements Add Thousands to Cost of Housing Planned Here

"Thousands of dollars in additional engineering expenses," said one Princeton-based engineer who works with developers.

He, and other engineers in his field, are referring to Township drainage requirements, scheduled for amendment after a public hearing before Township Committee on June 2t.

One engineer protested that developers, even under the eased requirements of the amended ordinance, are being asked to do the municipality's flood control work.

The thousands of dollars, observed Township Committee member David Blair recently, get passed along the conduit to the home-owners who buy the property.

For example, at Monday night's Planning Board meeting, the board granted approval to Nassau Capital Associates for lots it plans to sell off in the Stuart Road area.

One of the questions at issue was who is to maintain the retention basin required by the Township's ordinance. In the end, it was decided that property-owners themselves would be required, presumably in their deeds, to keep the basin free of twigs and the like. But if major storms mean that the basin requires professional attention, the Township would do the work--and bill the property-owners one hundred percent of the cost.

Another developer, Benedict Yedlin, was also given approval (he plans five houses on Herrontown Road across from Princeton House) and he was told to work out plans for the maintenance of his basin.

More Problems. The requirement to build a retention basin poses another question: If you buy a plot of ground from an undeveloped site like that of Nassau Capital, how do you know you aren't buying a lot where the detention basin is?

"I want to be sure buyers know their lots aren't going to be under water," declared board member Jerome Rose. He was so vexed by the potential in this situation that he cast the only "no." vote. Retention basins, he contended, should be separate from building lots and set aside at the start.

BUSINESS
In Princeton

"It could be that buyers wouldn't realize they might have water on their lots," commented board attorney Allan Porter.

He suggested the board require the developer to rescind a contract if buyers protested they didn't know part of the detention basin would be on their land, and Nassau Capital attorney Gordon Strauss agreed.

Besides, said developer Frank Quinby, maps on file in the county will show prospective buyers whether the basin is on their lot.

"Unbuildable" Lots. All this brought up still another problem. If a lot is partially taken up by a detention basin, board member Elizabeth Hutter suggested then the board may be approving under-sized lots that technically aren't "buildable" under the zoning ordinance. Assistant Township engineer Bhagwan Dass conceded that existence of part of the basin "limits the flexibility of building on that lot."

As it is, the new drainage ordinance means that buyers have only about one-third of their Nassau Capital lots to build on. No more than 25 percent of these lots may be cleared. (Six or eight percent goes into grass, driveways, and so on.)

This was the third full-scale session between Nassau Capital and the Planning Board. The developer has also been before Environmental Design Review, Gen. William Whipple and the Flood Control Committee and the Township engineer. Repeatedly, Mr. Quinby and Mr. Strauss have returned, with revisions along lines suggested at a previous hearing.

"Mr. Quinby has been very co-operative," observed Planning Board chairman Margen Penick, adding, "We will miss you!" and the board applauded.

The Specifications. Mr. Yedlin was next on the agenda. For his five-house development, he must provide a detention area 600 feet long. Not a "basin," exactly, it is an area in its natural state framed by an 18-inch-high earth berm to keep water inside during heavy rains. At its deepest, it could hold about five feet of water.

This developer re-designed his plans according to the proposed amendments and says he found they were much the same as the presumably stricter measures they are designed to ease. Even then, he said, General Whipple was not fully in accord with the plans.

A developer who asked not to be named, said the Township, in requiring water-retention basins, "has created a monster." If standards are followed, he said, a developer would have to build "an inordinately large berm," which the Environmental Design Review committee would oppose because it means cutting down trees and damaging the environment.

Amendments have been reviewed by Killam Associates, the Township's drainage consultant. Mrs. Hutter reported Monday night on preliminary remarks from Killam suggesting that where half-acre lots are concerned, the new proposals may be too much relaxed from original requirements.

The Killam representative will confer with General Whipple, Mrs. Hutter said, before making a final recommendation to Township Committee. Meanwhile, the Planning Board itself is sending to Committee a favorable nod regarding the amendments.

A former member of the Planning Board, asked whether the Township is making drainage restrictions deliberately severe as a way to fend off developers and hold down growth in the municipality, smiled and said, "Funny you should ask that question."

'A' EQUALS 15 CENTS

On New Postage Stamp. A new postage stamp that bears the letter "A" instead of a denomination has been placed on sale at the Princeton Post Office and all postal branches. Its value is 15 cents and corresponds with the new 15-cent rate for first-class domestic mail.

The stamp design features an eagle with the legend "U. S. Postage" beneath it. The letter "A" appears beside the eagle. The eagle and lettering are white, on an orange background.

The Postal Service printed the stamps in 1975-76 when similar uncertainty existed regarding its last rate case. The "A" stamps are available in sheets, coils and booklets, embossed stamped envelopes, bearing "A" in lieu of a denomination, also may be purchased.

The charge for each additional ounce or letter mail over one ounce is 13 cents. Therefore, mailers can affix "A" stamps in combination with as many 13-cents stamps as necessary to letters weighing more than an ounce.

SOUTHWORTH 1740

Own Your Own Authentic Colonial Village Lovingly Restored to the Standards of Our Times

Picture yourself living in the real thing: a historic colonial village all your own backing up to a wonderful wide mill stream. The sense of belonging right there, of being surrounded by a quieter and more leisurely time, of authentic beamed ceilings, hand craftsmanship and tradition, wide floor boards, and wonderful warming old fireplaces as good for you now as they were back when. Each of these houses have been lovingly restored and updated with all the modern conveniences.

SOUTHWORTH, the main residence, dates from 1740, and features a beamed living room with built-in corner cupboard, a formal dining room with big old fireplace, a convenient kitchen, and a den overlooking the stream. Upstairs are three comfortable bedrooms and a studio room.

SOUTHWORTH COTTAGE, circa 1790, has a large living room, a dining room, and an eat-in kitchen, as well as two comfortable bedrooms and a full bath.

SOUTHWORTH QUARTERS, circa 1840 has a foyer, living room, den, and kitchen with dining area. Upstairs are two ample bedrooms, a bath, and lots of storage areas.

Situated on more than an acre overlooking a lovely old stream, Southworth is convenient to an easy commute to Princeton or for that matter to new York or Philadelphia via the Turnpike or Penn central. The inground swimming pool (32' concrete) is just one of the many extras you must come see.

AS A WORKING COLONIAL INVESTMENT, THE ABOVE IS STILL OFFERED AS ONE PROPERTY, BUT SUBDIVISION IS POSSIBLE.

Realistically priced at $139,900

- PLEASE CALL FOR PLANNED VISIT
LAWRENCE TWP. — PRINCETON ADDRESS

These magnificent contemporaries are designed for the particular family and feature large gracious entertainment areas under dramatic cathedral ceilings, foyer galleries, libraries with wet bars, downstairs master suites with luxurious bath (stall shower and oversized tub) and lots of storage. Three different plans are available and variations on each plan are possible.

Designed by Short And Ford, a Princeton architectural firm, these homes will be constructed with the finest quality materials and craftsmanship. A unique feature of this project is its country club environment. Thirty four homes will be built on 50 rolling country acres. Access is from an entrance gate which can only be opened by a card or an intercom from residents' homes. Twenty acres will be owned by Homeowner Assocation. Tennis courts will be provided by the builder. Other facilities can be elected by the Homeowner Association. Additional features include zoned heating and air-conditioning systems, insulated glass throughout, oversized two car garage with automatic door openers, city water and city sewer. Commuting to New York is excellent via train at Princeton Jct. or by bus to the Port Authority. The bus stops at Province Hill on Route 206.

One of the prettiest houses on Van Kirk Road is this Thompson-style Cape Cod. The entrance foyer is large and welcoming; the living room has a brick-wall fireplace that's truly unique, and large sliding glass doors to the flagstone patio. The dining room has a charming window seat, and a door to the brick patio. The family room, with its warm panelling is lined with bookcases and storage. The large, country-style kitchen has an eat-in area beside the fireplace, a center island, a planning desk and more. There are three bedrooms, including the master bedroom, and two baths. The house is designed for comfortable living and entertaining-inside and out.

Long, low and lovely, in a perfect spot on a beautifully-landscaped corner of Mercer Road is this large, partially-brick ranch. The varied trees, the established vegetable garden, and the unusual and attractive swimming pool will be enjoyable all summer. On cold evenings, the living room's marble fireplace will attract you; there is a formal dining room, a good-sized family room, and an eat-in kitchen. On the same floor are also the five bedrooms, 2½ baths, and a utility room.

$149,000

This lovely ranch-style house is perfect for a couple who enjoy entertaining with graciousness. The spacious living room has a fireplace and two picture windows with window seats. The library has a handsome stone floor, another fireplace, mahogany panelling, built-in bookcases, and three picture windows. To round out your entertaining pleasures, there is a large patio leading to a beautiful pool. The setting is priceless: the entrancing Tall Timbers area. But descriptions are not enough – this house must be seen to be fully appreciated. $169,500

Stony Brook Bridge's Closing Opens Debate: Repair It or Build a New Bridge for $300,000?

RETIREMENT AHEAD? Viewed from the upstream side, the bridge over Stony Brook at Mercer Road presents a nice pattern of shape and shade. But those reinforcing parts aren't enough to sustain the 19th-century structure and it has been closed indefinitely. Engineers say it is an unusual bridge, constructed almost entirely of rectangular stones with only one keystone - shape in its arches.

No, George Washington never walked here--unless his ghost takes an occasional midnight stroll.

The bridge across Stony Brook on Princeton Pike (Mercer Road) dates only to 1809, even though it is the oldest bridge under Mercer County's care.

The future of this frail structure, whose fabric of stone gives it a deceptive appearance of ageless strength, will be discussed this Thursday before the county Freeholders.

The future of the Stony Brook crossing itself will also be under discussion. The urgent question: "How and when, with the bridge across Stony Brook closed indefinitely as of May 30, will travelers reach the other side?"

"We're going to ask the Freeholders for authorization to apply for bridge replacement money," says Robert Carmignani, director of public works for Mercer County. Funding provides for 70 percent Federal financing, 30 percent state.

"But even if we get it," he warns, "a new bridge is five years away."

Mr. Carmignani will propose to the Freeholders a new two-lane, $300,000 bridge to be built downstream from the old one.

Preserve the Aesthetics. "At the same time," he continues, "we'd like the Freeholders to pay a consultant to look at the old bridge and decide whether it's economical to repair it. And I mean repair it without defacing it, because we have to think of aesthetics, too."

The old bridge is within the Princeton Battlefield District on both national and state historic registers. If Federal money is used to repair it, according to preservation consultant Constance Greiff, Federal approval of the plans is required. If the county uses its own money, state Department of Environmental Protection approval would be necessary.

Mrs. Greiff suggests that the county confer with Robert Bogel, curator of civil and mechanical engineering at the Smithsonian Institution and ask whom he would recommend as a bridge consultant.

No More Trucks. Mr. Carmignani thinks perhaps the bridge could be repaired enough to carry automobiles--but school buses or trucks? Never again.

"...and it would be an enforcement problem for Princeton Township police," he concedes, "but we can't alter the present bridge enough to let the big tractor-trailers use it any more."

When a new downstream bridge was proposed last year, the Township objected to county plans for a four-lane width. The county designs its bridges for a 50-year life span because engineers don't think it makes sense to build a bridge which may have to be widened in 25 years as the countryside fills with houses.

"In the existing situation, however, we'd ask for only two lanes," Mr. Carmagnani says.

For one thing, he adds, a four-lane bridge at today's prices might cost over half a million.

Expert to Be Consulted. "Both Borough and Township clearly oppose a four-lane bridge," says Township Mayor Josie Hall. "We hope an expert in antique bridges can take a look and see whether the old one can be repaired."

She cites a letter of August 1 last year, signed by representatives of many concerned organizations,

CABARET TO RETURN

For Summer Season. The Inn Cabaret, Princeton's weekly musical and comedy revue, will return to the Nassau Inn's Prince William Room for the first of its 1978 summer shows Thursday and Friday, June 15 and 16. Performances will be at 8:30 on Thursday and 8:30 and 10:30 on Friday, with doors opening one-half hour before each show.

Appearing the the opening show of the season will be Suzie Bertin, Roo Brown, Diana Crane, Liz Fillo, and Brent Monahan, with Dan Berkowitz as master of ceremonies. At the piano will be Annie Rikleen, musical director of this year's Triangle show, with Steve Fillo on bass. Joan Lucas is the choreographer, Roo Brown the musical director, and Dan Berkowitz the director.

While the staff is reluctant to say just exactly what the program will be ("we like to keep the audiences guessing"), the Cabaret's writers have been devising original comedy material to complement the group's musical numbers. Already in the hopper and ready to make their appearance in the first few weeks of the summer are "exclusive interviews" with the New Jersey senatorial candidates; a version of "Star Wars" ("considering the budget of The Inn Cabaret, it's definitely the economy-class version," said Berkowitz); some new words of wisdom from the Cabaret's resident chaplain, who first appeared last summer; a look at the speedy and humane treatment in a hospital emergency room; an on-the-spot interview with one of the world's foremost ballerinas at a turning point in her career; and a spoof on Restoration comedies.

Among the writers whose material will be surfacing in the first few weeks of the summer are Joe Bolster, Tom Carroll, Marvin Cheiten, and Nat Hartshorne. Also preparing for the opening of the season are Marie Miller and Floyd Backes, who will once again be in charge of costumes and lights, respectively; and Marie Rosenblad, who will coordinate the business side of the operation.

After the opening show, the Cabaret will return for six weeks in a row on Thursdays and Fridays from June 29 through August 4. Reservations can be made by calling 924-3727 XA29 starting on the Monday before each show.

The Inn Cabaret will also perform in a special benefit show for Summer Intime on Friday only, June 23, at 8:30 and 10:30. Tickets to the Intime Benefit may be reserved by phoning Summer Intime at 452-8181.

INTIME IS BACK

"Holiday," Philip Barry's 1930s comedy, will follow, with an opening night Thursday, July 13. Kimothy Cruse is directing.

"Matchplay," by Princeton playwright William McCleery, opens July 28. Dan Berkowitz is directing this one, too. It's the east coast premiere of Mr. McCleery's play.

"Happy End," the Brecht-Weil musical, will bring the season to a close with an opening night on August 11. Kathy Mendelhoff is the director.

Each show will run two week-ends in Murray Theatre on campus. Thursdays through Sundays, except for "Happy End," which will run three weeks.

The Benefit Cabaret will be Friday, June 23, at 8:30 and 10:30 p.m., starring such favorites from Summer Intime and Inn Cabaret as Dan Berkowitz, Roo Brown and Liz Fillo. Tickets, at $11 each, will benefit Summer Intime Eleven. Reservations may be made at Murray Theatre.

Cinema Intime will play Tuesdays and Wednesdays in McCormick Hall, and nightly between June 15 and 29. Schedules to be announced.

The Ice Cream Cabaret will follow the stage presentations each Friday, Saturday and Sunday night. Dale Coye will direct, and the Cabaret is scheduled to open the first week-end in July.

FILM SERIES TO START

On June 21, McCarter's Summer Cinema '78 series in air-conditioned Kresge auditorium in Princeton University's Frick Hall will begin on Wednesday, June 21. The series includes ten weekly programs, including nine double features, each to be shown from Wednesday through Sunday evenings, during the summer.

The first program in the series, to be shown from Wednesday, June 21, through Sunday, June 25, pairs Michelangelo Antonioni's "Blow-Up" with Francis Ford Coppola's "The Conversation." Both films probe the elusive nature of reality and truth.

Subsequent pairings include a Nicholas Roeg double feature, with Julie Christie and Donald Sutherland pursuing death through Venice in "Don't Look Now," and David Bowie cursed with immortality in contemporary America in "The Man Who Fell to Earth," (June 28 through July 2).

Chaplin's silent classic romantic comedy "City Lights" (1931) will share the screen with Trufaut's contemporary romantic comedy "Stolen Kisses" (1969) from Wednesday, July 5, through Sunday, July 9. Luis Bunuel's satire "The Discreet Charm of the Bourgeoisie" (1972) will be paired with Hal Ashby's satire "Shampoo" (1975) from Wednesday, July 12, through Sunday July 16.

Two "road" movies, Bertrand Blier's anarchistic "Going Places" (1974) and Hal Ashby's sentimental-bawdy "The Last Detail" (1974) are scheduled for July 19 through July 23. Two films dealing with sexual awakening and childhood memories, Joseph Losey's "The Go-Between" (1971) and Fellini's "Amarcord" (1974), will be shown from July 26 through July 30. Double features in August include two pseudo-westerns, "Rancho Delux" and "Midnight Cowboy;" two films dealing with feminine psychology, "Cries and Whispers" and "Women in Love;" and two detective films, contemporary style, "The Long Goodbye" and "The Late Show."

The final film in the series—and not a double feature because of its length--is Stanley Kubrick's "Barry Lyndon," a meticulous reconstruction of the lost world of mid-18th Century Europe.

Discount coupon books are available for the series with ten coupons for each of the ten programs. For further information, call the McCarter Theatre box office (609-921-8700), open through June 21 from 1-5, Monday through Saturday. Single tickets will be available at Kresge auditorium from one hour before the programs.

TALL TALES ON TAP

From Creative Theatre. The students of Creative Theatre Unlimited's Performance Workshop will present "Golliwhoppers," a collection of American tall tales, on Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at the Unitarian Church.

The play, directed by Pamela Hoffman, is a culmination of a year's work in which the sixth through ninth graders involved explored acting techniques, improvisation, stagecraft and scenic design. The Performance Workshop, open only to students with one year of CTU classes or equivalent experience, will present "Golliwhoppers" at two of the area's elementary schools this week. Admission is free, but donations will be welcomed. For more information, call Creative Theatre Unlimited at 924-3489.

"FUNNY GIRL" TRYOUTS

By-the-Lake Production. If you are now or ever have been or hope you will be, Barbra Streisand, you might as well try out for the part of Fanny in "Theatre-By-The-Lake's production of "Funny Girl," to be given July 20, 21 and 22.

Tryouts are next Wednesday and Thursday, June 14 and 15 at 7 p.m. in Geiger-Rceves Hall on the Peddie School campus, South Main and Ward Streets in Hightstown, N.J.

The producers would also like a "handsome, leading-man type who can act and sing," to play Nicky Arnstein; a mature woman who can sing and act to be Fanny's mother; a mature actor to play Florenz Ziegfeld and a singer and dancer to be Fanny's best friend, Eddy.

Fanny, as if everyone didn't know, is Fanny Brice, the comedienne and Ziegfeld star. Barbra Streisand became a star in the leading role, and "Funny Girl" ran on Broadway from 1964 to 1968.

If you audition, Theatre-By-The-Lake would like to have you bring resume, photograph and prepared song. Rehearsals, after the cast has been chosen, will be nightly from 7 to 11 p.m. for four weeks. Jeffrey R. Holcombe will direct, and Richard Anzuini of Hightstown High School, will be musical director.

IT'S NEW To Us

SHOE BUSINESS-A FAMILY TRADITION: Ralph Hulit, Jr. represents the third generation of Hulits now operating the family shoe business. He is standing in the recently completed display area, which exhibits many well-known brands of athletic footwear and a wide variety of children's shoes, as he presents a racquet ball sports shoe from the store's new line by Osaga.

STEP INTO SUMMER With Shoes from Hulit's. Summer brings many carefree activities and pleasures, and Hulit's Shoes has summer footwear in popular styles for every occasion, every need. Casual shoes, dressy shoes, sports shoes in the most wanted designs are shown for every member of the family. Glamorous shoes for women, debonair and relaxed styles for men, and sturdy and colorful styles for children contribute to summer's enjoyment.

Hulit's store is pleasant, spacious and comfortable; open shelving displays shoes in every available style for easy selection. An experienced staff provides prompt and courteous service with careful attention given to proper fit, especially where children are concerned. Owned and operated by the Hulit family since 1929, the store has now reached the third generation in shoe business.

Summer Shoes for Women. Hulit's is very fashion-minded, selecting all shoe styles from the top trends. One of the leading summer fashions for men and women are the canvas and rope casuals in basic or primary colors shown by almost every maker. Pappagallo has a classic Spanish espadrille and an espadrille with embroidered flowers; Ked's Grasshoppers show espadrilles, a four-eyelet tie and a ballet style trimmed with striped terry; Oomphies' Browsabouts include ballet styled flats with flowered linings and a sling-back pump.

Thong sandals on display include Sunjuns by Bass with flexible, lightweight soles - mahogany, camel, beige - and Golo's thong sandal in white, bone, camel and navy. Golo also has a sandal with delicate straps that create a butterfly design in yellow, white or beige.

The popular espadrille is made more dressy by Florsheim, using leather instead of canvas in bone, white, navy, brown and natural linen. Florsheim also shows an open sandal with leather shaped like a bow over the toes and a medium heel in navy, white, and camel. Good news: Hulit's is offering 20 percent off all Golo and Florsheim shoes for women for the rest of the season!

Canvas has also moved into the lines of dressy shoes, sharing the spotlight with leather. Golo has produced an open sandal in canvas with instep strap and narrow wooden heel in yellow, black, red, green and navy, and shows the same design in white leather. Joyce makes an open shoe in black or navy canvas with a narrow platform sole and medium heel of polished wood.

Dressy, feminine sandals in various heel heights with slender straps of leather brought together in front are shown by Pappagallo and Golo. Bare Traps' open sandal is very sophisticated, using leather in a bow effect and mounting it on a polished wooden platform with narrow high heel. Fred Braun's sandal features a high cork wedge and uses decorative stitching on the straps over the toes.

Clogs and sandals with leather tops and wooden platforms and heels made by Fjord, Zodiac, Danelle and Clark's of England appeal to young sophisticates. For those who prefer closed shoes, Joyce presents a classic pump with medium heel in bone or white leather, and Air Step shows a casual shoe with a high vamp and medium heel in white or bone leather with a perforated design. Hulit's has expanded their line of women's "duty" shoes, showing several styles in white by The Clinic Shoe and one by Dexter.

Summer Shoes for Men. Canvas shoes and espadrilles, tops in fashion for men, include Ked's mesh "Knockarounds" of navy, bone and white with rope trimmed soles, and espadrilles in white or navy with rope wedge heel. Florsheim's "Idlers" are seen in a slip-on style made of canvas with a linen look in brown, tan, white. Florsheim's "Weeds" are soft leather slip-ons with rubber sole and decorative canvas strap; terra cotta, camel, tan.

Florsheim also has summer casuals and dressy shoes in the lighter shades of leather - bone, camel or white. Men's sandals in a variety of strapped styles and earth tones are made by Bare Traps, Evans and Clark's. Clark's Wallabees are favorites for walking or relaxing.

Classic white bucks by Bass are $41; by Dexter, $30. Hiking and backpacking boots by Dexter and Herman Survivors are made for both men and women.

Summer Shoes for Children. Sneakers and sandals are summer favorites for children, and Hulit's has a tremendous variety. Ked's makes sneakers; Stride Rite makes "Zips" - in plain or contrasting colors. Sandals are made by Stride Rite in many styles for children of all ages.

New Line of Sports Shoes. Hulit's has added a new line of athletic footwear by Osaga, which includes men's women's and boys' jogging and running shoes as well as shoes for other sports. A tennis shoe designed by Oleg

REFRESHING FASHIONS

For Summer - At Bailey's. Bailey's is an unpretentious clothing store, foregoing frills in merchandising, display and luxurious decor to bring you lower prices on apparel for women and young girls. Each clothing category is displayed separately on a long rack; skirts, tops, long dresses, street length dresses, pants, professional uniforms are neatly arranged and easily accessible for browsing and selection. Complete lines of many well-known brands of clothing are carried by the store, including the cool and fashionable cottons imported from India and Danskin's high style separates so popular for summer dressing.

SUMMER FAVORITES at Bailey's are the cool and fashionable cotton India imports in pants, tops, skirts, dresses and the "Freestyle" Danskin leotards that can be worn for swimming or teamed with wrap skirts or flowing pants. Livia Wong, summer salesperson, is shown here with a striking caftan, contrasting large and small prints of black and brown, imported from India.

Danskin's Separates. Danskin's "Freestyle" separates are a high fashion line featuring leotards knit of Milliskin nylon and Spandex. They can be worn for swimming or teamed with the line's Trevira polyester knit wrap skirts or drawstring-waist pants for sensuous and elegant daytime or evening wear. The leotards are shown in four basic styles - racing back, scoop neck with short sleeves, wrap style or halter neck with low back - in rich glowing colors of cherry red, marine blue, hemlock green, wine and navy. These versatile garments can also be worn for exercising and ballet or as a body shirt with jeans. Skirts and leotards are small, medium, large; pants 10-16.

Imported from India. Bailey's has a very impressive selection of cotton fashions imported from India. Browsing down a rack of skirts, you'll find floral prints gathered to a deep, fitted yoke, paisley printed A-lines, floral tiers, a black calico print with a flounced ruffle. A long skirt of gingham-checked plaid has a shirred top with ruffled heading and can also be worn as a strapless dress. Earth-toned India prints of black, brown, beige, and rust in A-line or wrap styles are especially in demand. Sizes 3-4 to 15-16; $15-$25.

The store has a large selection of long dresses priced under $20 for sizes 3-4 to 18. A dress of natural crinkled cotton in a flowing style is made demure and appealing with open crochet and smocking around a drawstring neckline; its raglan sleeves have a wrist ruffle with the same embroidered trim. Pastel stripes in greens and blues adapt to a hooded, long sleeved style for evening wear or beach cover. A very full A-line with scoop neck and handkerchief point sleeves contrasts large and small prints of black, rust and beige in a very striking hostess gown.

Street length dresses from India offer the same imposing variety of styles and patterns. A cool and charming dress of navy crinkled cotton has a flounced top with tied shoulder straps and a double flounce around the hem. A black floral tunic over a brown floral skirt in the same print creates a romantic one-piece dress with butterfly sleeves. A beige print dress with a lattice yoke, short sleeves with ruffle and fullness through the body is neutral and basic.

India pants are shown in crinkled cotton or knits in many patterns and styles. Blue and white stripes, like ticking, give pants with a shirred, elasticized waist a fresh look; a beige pant with a drawstring waist is given a soft look with small lavender bouquets. Cotton knit in a terra cotta color is distinguished by small figures in beige and blue.

India tops, sizes XS to XXL are designed as shirts, V necks, western styles, wrap styles with butterfly sleeves, round collars with crocheted yokes and scoop neck florals with handkerchief point sleeves. A white blouse with a round neck and long sleeves has a lovely coral and green embroidered design. Rose print in a tiny pattern makes the yoke and long sleeves of a blouse that is otherwise navy with roses. A terra cotta peasant blouse with drawstring neck and long sleeves sparkles with glossy embroidery of the same color.

Note to bargain hunters: Bailey's always has a sale rack inside the front door with long dresses marked as low as $10; street length dresses, $7.50.

Bailey's has an unbelievable number of uniforms for nurses, dental technicians, chefs, waitresses, beauticians and also Public Health uniforms. Dresses, pant suits, jump suits, laboratory coats, smocks and separates are available in white and colors from petite to size 52, in styles that are classic or copy the current trend in fashions for street clothes. Accessories include nurses caps, full length or half slips, support hose in white or standard shades, Nurse Mates shoes in 30 different styles and name badges in many shapes and colors.

There has been a Bailey's store in Princeton since 1930. Still owned by the original family, Bailey's is currently located in the Princeton Shopping Center on North Harrison Street. Store hours are Monday through Saturday 10-5:30; Friday night until 9.

Princeton Regional School HIGHLIGHTS

(The following information was researched and written by members of the Regional Schools PTO Council, and the opinions expressed are not those of TOWN TOPICS.)

ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION has taken several JW groups out of the classroom and into the field during the past few weeks. House 7 studied at the Scout camp near Lambertville; House 8 went separate ways with seventh graders at Washington's Crossing Park while eighth graders camped in the pine barrens at Wharton State Park; and eighth grade students from Houses 2 and 3 went to Blairstown for their work outdoors.

THE PRS COMMITTEE reviewing the Standards and Objectives for Middle and Elementary Schools has sent home a letter to parents, inviting them to see and study the documents now in their schools, Valley Road, and the Public Library. An 8:00 p.m. meeting on Thursday, June 8, at Community Park School will give an opportunity for anyone--parent or non-parent--to comment on the work and offer suggestions. Wherever feasible or practical, new ideas may be added to the report. Last year's work on "Goals" brought Princeton's hopes and aspirations for their schools into written form; tomorrow's meeting will follow up on how best we can achieve those goals.

STEFANIE WEIGMANN, a PHS Junior, has been awarded a full scholarship for a six-week summer program at Cornell University sponsored by Telluride Association. Two professors from M.I.T. will conduct seminars entitled "Self and Society: Challenges to Liberal Thought."

Students from twenty-three states will attend; candidates were chosen for academic ability and creative leadership potential.

A HEALTH CAREERS FAIR was held at PHS to inform students about medical careers and allied professions open to them following high school graduation. Displays included a pace maker, films, prosthetic appliances, and other varied visual materials. Participating sponsors were the Family Service Agency, MCCC, Princeton Medical Center, St. Francis, Helene Fuld, and Mercer Hospitals.

THE END OF THE SCHOOL year signifies goodbye not just to graduates but to retiring staff members who have helped make Princeton Regional Schools more than an impersonal institution. This year's group have compiled a total of 157 years with PRS: Mrs. Mollie Updike, Guidance, and Joseph Meyers, Custodian, from PHS; Dorothy Hunt, Secretary, and Harry Whittaker, Custodian, from CP; Audrey Graf, third grade teacher from RS; and Leah Riddle, LB teacher. Fall 1977 retirees Katherine Coffee and Albert Proccacino added to the list make an impressive total of 219 years of service to Princeton students.

THE RIVERSIDE PTO earlier this year was given the Coyne-Schlessinger Memorial Fund for an appropriate use. This fund, consisting of community contributions in memory of Stephen Coyne and Jacob Schlessinger who drowned in Lake Carnegie in January, 1966, will underwrite two projects. First, a corner of the school library will be set aside for athletic safety; second, to provide a safe, year-round activity, a tennis backboard has been constructed on the playground. This memorial backboard will be officially dedicated at a June 12 ceremony with the Lake Supervision Division of the Princeton Recreation Department in attendance.

RS STUDENTS HAVE taken jogging to heart. T-shirts printed with "Riverside Jogger" are available to any student who jogs the number of kilometer twice his or her age. The jogging program directed by Kathy Hellwege is happily borrowed from Becky Mackey's successful CP jogging venture.

HIGHLIGHTS has produced lots of words during the school year but saves the best two for the last. To our readers, our publishers, Nancy DiMeglio and the PTO Council, the VR secretaries, but especially to the school staff and PTO publicity people who are our eyes and ears for events, dates, and news – a very special Thank You.

HIGHLIGHTS has been prepared and written during the school year by Tady Hunter and M.P. Wilkerson.

FITNESS BEGINS HERE! Mercer County Freeholder Barbara B. Sigmund, who also serves as Park Commissioner, marks the path of the future County Park Fitness Trail as Stuart School senior Catherine McVay symbolically turns the first shovel for the path. Catherine suggested that the Mercer County Park Commission develop such a trail, with its planned excercise stations, after she used similar trails ("Parcours") during a summer in Europe. The Park Commission has laid out the course of the trail in the Mercer County Central Perk and will begin the construction this summer.

SCHOOL GOALS TOPIC

For Elementary, Middle Schools. Parents and other members of the community will meet in small groups with teachers this Thursday at 8 p.m. (Community Park School) to talk about objectives and standards as they are related to the goals for the Princeton Regional School system.

The process is the second step of the state-required "Thorough and Efficient Education" process. The goals themselves were developed last year in the first step of the process.

The purpose of this Thursday's meeting is to review objectives (student achievement) and standards (the level of that achievement) for elementary and middle school, specifically grades five and eight. Objectives and standards for the high school will be reviewed at a subsequent meeting.

Grades five and eight were chosen because they are so-called "exit grades;" that is, students exit from elementary school after grade five, and from middle school after grade eight.

Copies of the objectives and standards are available in all schools, the T. and E. office in the Valley Road building and in the public library.

REGISTRATION OPEN

At YWCA. The YWCA has openings available in several summer classes as it continues its registration through Friday.

Gymnastics Mini-Camp for girls 4-5 years old offers a basic introduction to gymnastics two mornings a week, with an opportunity to continue on in a regular gymnastics program in the Fall. Offered for the first time in several years, Red Cross basic canoeing is available on Carnegie Lake two mornings weekly, and is taught by a certified Red Cross instructor.

Women's swim classes are open at all ability levels, and there are some openings available in ballet, disco, modern, exotic and jazz dance. Swimming may be combined with one of the many exercise programs.

For women who are in a state of transition, either through separation or divorce, "On Your Own," a support group which meets regularly to offer professional advice and support, helps deal with the many problems and questions which arise. "Basic Writing Skills" offers a refresher course in self expression through creative writing.

For the whole family, a new course is being offered as a family outing. Held on Wednesday evenings, the family will learn to identify the visible planets and constellations together.

For teen girls, "Craft Happening" has invited area crafters and artists to demonstrate and teach their skills. Field trips to museums, picnics and tours to visit area artists will be planned. This program will also include swimming, games and cooking.

Teens interested in creating their favorite foods may elect "Teens in the Kitchen," taught by Ann Harwood. The YWCA office is open from 9 to 5 weekdays for registration. Classes begin on Monday, June 26.

600 TO GRADUATE

From Mercer College. Frank Thompson Jr., Congressman, Fourth District, (N.J.) will deliver the commencement ceremonies Saturday at 2 at the MCCC West Windsor campus. Associate degrees in Arts, Science and Applied Science, as well as certificates, will be awarded to approximately 600 graduates.

Msgr. George A. Ardos, Director of Religious Education for the Diocese of Trenton, will give the invocation. Rabbi Bernard Perelmuter, leader of the Har Sinai congregation, will give the benediction.

Grand Marshals will be Dr. Vernon O. Crawley, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, and Dante F. Masciantoni, Assistant Professor of Data Processing. The class speakers will be Ms. Kathryn I. Marvhnic and Ms. Carol J. Singer.

Those presenting awards will include Mr. Joseph J. Narducci, Vice-President, National State Bank, who will make a monetary award for a 1978 graduate with the highest cumulative grade point average; Professor Lloyd a Carver of the Engineers' Club of Trenton, presenting the club's annual award; and Mrs. Sally Laskos and Mrs Eleanor Bruderek, sisters of Marilyn Chorlton, presenting the Marilyn Chorlton-Cybis Scholarship Award.

THE MEDICAL CENTER AT PRINCETON

PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY 08540 • TELEPHONE CODE 609 921 7700

JOHN W KAUFFMAN PRESIDENT

June 5, 1978

Dear Friends of The Medical Center:

A SOLUTION TO THE BED SHORTAGE CRISIS AT THE MEDICAL CENTER AT PRINCETON - DENIED - BY THE STATE HEALTH PLANNING AND COORDINATING COUNCIL.

Although approved and endorsed by the county and regional planning boards, the State agency denied the Certificate of Need request for 30 additional medical and surgical beds. Why? –Because the hospitals in the Trenton area had an occupancy lower than 90 per cent for the last half of 1977. The statement was made that "people in the Princeton Medical Center's service area should go to Trenton for hospitalization," totally ignoring the fact that patients usually go to hospitals where their personal physicians practice. We have not written to you previously because we attempted to negotiate a reversal of this unfavorable decision with the State Department of Health, and the State Health Planning and Coordinating Council. Although we were assured that the State Department of Health would request Council to reconsider, the Department of Health failed to act and the denial stands.

The medical and surgical occupancy at The Medical Center at Princeton has run at 99- per cent for 37 months. More than 1,500 elective cases have had to be rescheduled 2 to 5 times within the last 12 months. Every day, 12 patients occupy non-conforming beds in solariums that are less than satisfactory.

The Federal Guidelines for granting Certificates of Need state "The plans should and indeed must recognize special local circumstances and requirements, and the Guidelines provide for recognizing such circumstances." No consideration was given by the State Council as to the local circumstances and the fact that the Medical Center serves a distinct service area, is overcrowded, and patient care is seriously and, at times dangerously delayed. Regionalization was the only consideration.

To solve this crisis, we need your immediate help. --Won't you please call, write or send a telegram today, to Governor Byrne, your State Senator or Assemblyman, your Federal Congressman and Senator, as well as the Commissioner of Health, Joanne E. Finley, MD, and ask them to support approval of our Certificate of Need. Your life may depend on it.

Very sincerely yours,
John W. Kauffman

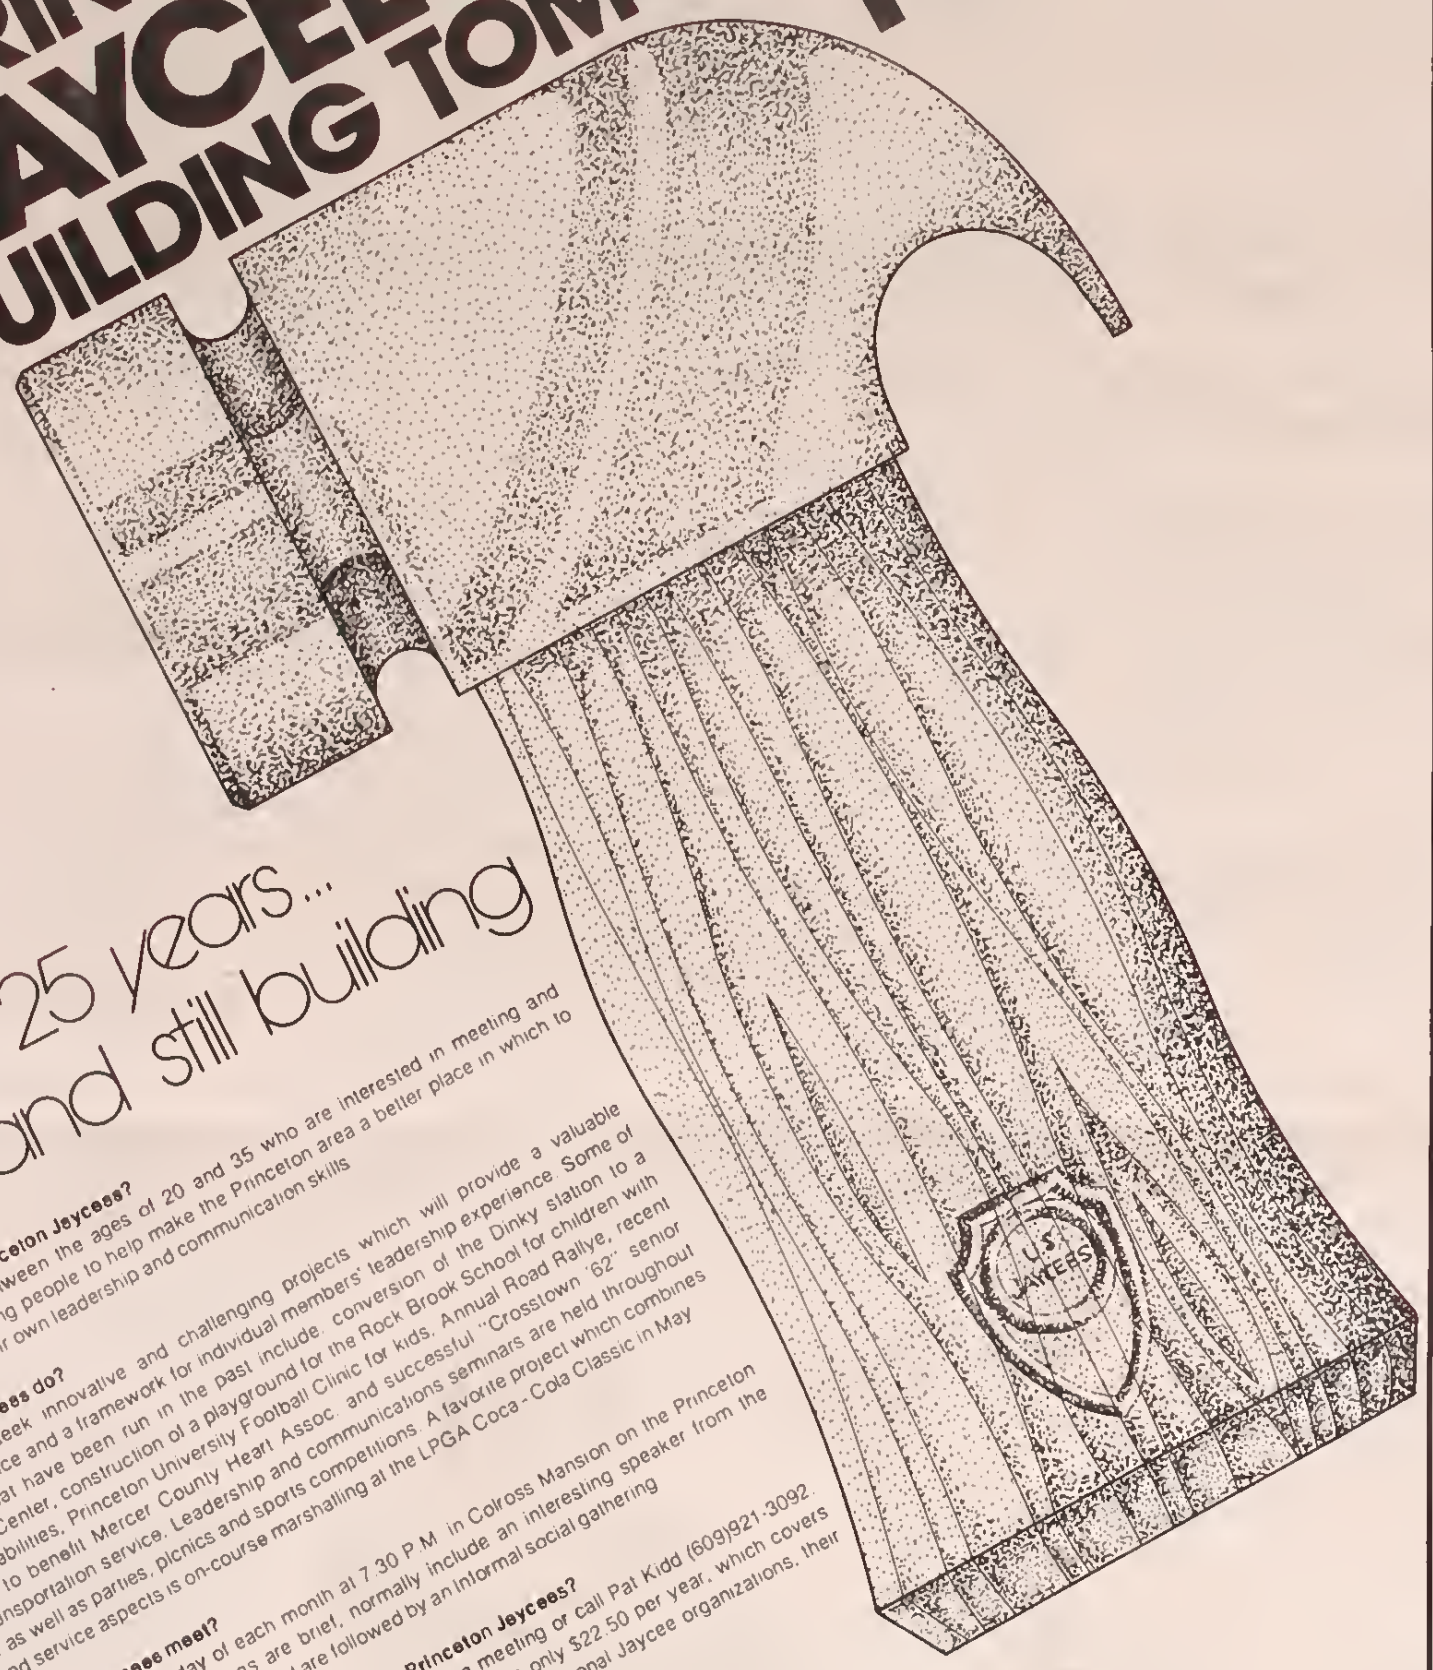
GREATER PRINCETON JAYCEES... BUILDING TOMORROW TODAY



25 years... and still building

WHO are the Greater Princeton Jaycees?
A group of people between the ages of 20 and 35 who are interested in meeting and working with other young people to help make the Princeton area a better place in which to live and to develop their own leadership and communication skills

WHAT do the Jaycees do?
The Jaycees seek innovative and challenging projects which will provide a valuable community service and a framework for individual members' leadership experience. Some of the projects that have been run in the past include: conversion of the Dinky station to a Bicentennial Center, construction of a playground for the Rock Brook School for children with learning disabilities, Princeton University Football Clinic for kids, Annual Road Rallye, recent Cyclethon to benefit Mercer County Heart Assoc. and successful "Crosstown '62" senior citizen transportation service. Leadership and communications seminars are held throughout the year as well as parties, picnics and sports competitions. A favorite project which combines social and service aspects is on-course marshalling at the LPGA Coca-Cola Classic in May

WHEN do the Jaycees meet?
The second Wednesday of each month at 7:30 P.M. in Colross Mansion on the Princeton Day School campus. Meetings are brief, normally include an interesting speaker from the community or local corporation and are followed by an informal social gathering

HOW can you learn more about (or join) the Princeton Jaycees?
Just send in the coupon on this page, come to a meeting or call Pat Kidd (609)921-3092. The Jaycees will welcome your interest. Membership is only $22.50 per year, which covers everything including membership in the national and international Jaycee organizations, their publications and all seminars

She is survived by her father, Nevin Wynne Sr. of Pittsburgh, Pa; her mother, Mrs. Irene Wynne of Trenton; a brother, Nevin Wynne Jr. of Hatboro, Pa.; two sisters, Clincey Wynne of New York City and Carol Ann Wynne of Trenton; her maternal grandparents, Marie Marshall of Trenton and Nathan Marshall of Princeton; her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Clincey Wynne of Pittsburgh, Pa., and her maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Mary Ann Marshall of Trenton.

WARM AND WET

Forecast for June. June looks like a mixed blessing for farmers and home gardeners across New Jersey, according to James Carr, National Weather Service advisory agricultural meteorologist at Rutgers University's Cook College.

"The early start of warm weather this year is expected to accelerate harvesting schedules for crops such as beets, cabbage, escarole, snap beans and lettuce," Mr. Carr said. Warm temperatures are expected to persist through the first third of the month and be accompanied by occasional thunderstorms, he said. Cooler temperatures and more rain are due for the middle part of the month, with more warm weather in prospect for the end of June.

"Farmers and home gardeners should be alert to the possibility of outbreaks of downy and powdery mildew, gray mold or leaf spot on susceptible vegetables such as potatoes, tomatoes, peppers, eggplant and snap beans by mid-month during the expected spell of cooler and damp weather conditions," Mr. Carr cautioned.

"The recent wet weather and the prospect of ample rain during June favor pasture and forage crops and livestock grazing," he said, "while haying operators in New Jersey should be able to make up for lost time during the first part of the month due to mostly sunny, warm weather."

Normal afternoon temperatures will be in the 70s and low 80s, with overnight readings in the upper 50s to mid-60s. Rainfall is likely to average an inch weekly.

Earn 1/4% more than the 6-month Treasury bill rate

Our rate for the seven day period beginning June 1st. was 7.41%

We've got a brand new savings certificate that promises to be an outstanding money maker.

And it will tie your money up for only six months.

That's clear, right?

Well, our problem is we can't tell you the interest you'll earn for your investment. It's not that we don't want to, we literally can't!

You see, the interest rate on this special six-month limited issue certificate is based on the weekly auction price of U.S. Treasury Bills*, and the auction price fluctuates from week to week. But if you invest in a certificate, you'll earn ¼% more than the Treasury Bill rate for the week you purchase. And once a certificate is issued to you at a rate, you'll earn the quoted rate over the full six-month period with no fluctuation. Minimum $10,000. (Penalty required for early withdrawal.)

Don't be confused. Be enriched. And be sure to look into Princeton's other high-yield savings certificates and regular passbook accounts.

SPORTS FANS I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to You by John Bernard

Here's an intriguing baseball question ... Although Ty Cobb was one of the greatest players of all time, his uniform number was never retired ... Why not? ... The reason: Cobb never had a number! ... When he was in the majors, many players did not yet wear numbers on their uniforms.

Did you know that Gary Player is the ONLY golfer who's won a major tournament in each of the last three decades — the 1950s, 1960s and 1970s? ... Neither Jack Nicklaus or Arnie Palmer or anyone else — except Player — has done it ... Of the major tournaments, Player won the British Open in 1959, the U.S. Open in 1965, the PGA in 1962 and 1972, and the Masters in 1961, 1974 and 1978.

What would you say were the five greatest baseball teams of all time? ... A national news service recently picked these five ... The 1927 Yankees with Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig ... The 1930 A's led by Lefty Grove, Mickey Cochrane and Jimmie Foxx ... The 1952 Dodgers with Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella, Pee Wee Reese, and Duke Snider ... The 1974 A's featuring Reggie Jackson, Joe Rudi, Sal Bando, and Catfish Hunter ... And the 1976 Reds led by Pete Rose, Johnny Bench and Joe Morgan.

PHS Nine Wins Its Last Four to Finish 14-6; Record Is Best for Little Tigers Since 1960

Princeton High School baseball coach Jim O'Neill had been concerned that his team might experience a letdown after it had been eliminated a week ago by Shore Regional in the NJSIAA Central Jersey Group 2 semifinal.

He needn's have been. This finest PHS nine since the 1960 championship team of Jack Lackey swept its final four games, its ninth victory in its last ten. And it proved it could win in a variety of ways, such as pounding out 26 hits in sweeping a double header from Hightstown 12-3 and 13-3, or by being limited to one hit by Hopewell Valley two days later and still winning, 2-0.

Its final win of the season–No. 14 against six defeats–was a steady 6-3 triumph over West Windsor. Small wonder that O'Neill could say this week, "Probably never have I been so sorry to see a season end."

"No one who coaches at any level could have been prouder of my kids and what they accomplished. It was a good feeling for myself but I am particularly happy for them. They were a great bunch to work with."

Early Start the Key. In Friday's finale with West Windsor, Princeton scored three runs in the first–the 17th time in the 20 games this season that the Little Tigers scored in the opening inning. Cleanup batter Al Kandell slammed the first pitch over the Pirates' rightfielder's head into the woods for a two-run shot–his fourth homer of the year.

"It's incredible," said O'Neill of the first-inning streak. PHS won two of the three games in which it did not score in the first, and O'Neill pointed out there was only one game all year in which the Little Tigers didn't score before the other team.

Keith Phox limited West Windsor to six hits for his seventh win of the season. He lost two in compiling a 2.17 earned run average.

Kandell Wins Fourth. Hopewell Valley, the Group 2 state champion in 1977, allowed only one hit–a solid single by Kandell. But Kandell, Mark DeLucia's counterpart on the mound, was just as effective. He limited the Bulldogs to three scattered singles in earning his fourth win.

PHS scored one run in the first after two were out. Dave Miller walked, stole second, moved to third on a wild pitch and came home after he and Kandell, who had also walked, effected a double steal. The run, without a hit, was typical of the scrappy play of the Little Tigers this year.

PHS added another run in the third. Jon Miller walked, advanced on a ground out and fly ball and came home on an error.

The twin killing of Hightstown was a day for fattening up batting averages. PHS scored in every inning but one in the first game, starting with three in the first. Kandell went 4-for-4, including a two-run triple in the first, and drove in four runs.

Phox added three hits, one a double, in picking up his sixth win, while Dave Miller drove in a pair of runs with two hits, one a triple. The second game was just as tortuous for the Rams.

SPORTS In Princeton

Back-to-Back Homers. PHS took a 4-0 lead--in the first inning, naturally–and put it out of reach with four more in the sixth. Dave Miller and Kandell hit back-to-back home runs in the sixth, and both also connected for triples.

Kandell led the 14-hit attack with three. Adding two each were Miller, Phox, John Rosenthal and first baseman Tommy Breithaupt. Matt Kahny got the win–his third against two defeats.

The first win over Hightstown was Princeton's 11th of the season. "The kids wanted to get that 11th," explained O'Neill, to better the previous high of 10 which went all the way back to the 1962 season.

"The record-keepers can look to 1978; they don't have to look back so far now," observed O'Neill.

Hitting a Key. Part of the key to the success, he said, was hitting. PHS averaged six runs and seven hits a game. At the same time, there was a dramatic reduction in strikeouts to four per game. The on-base average was almost .500. "The kids were really swinging," he said.

Kandell ended with a .397 average. He drove in 25 runs and had 12 extra base hits among his 27 in 68 at bats. "He's the most talented player I've had since I've been coaching," said O'Neill. As a pitcher, he had an ERA of 2.38.

Close behind was Dave Miller, outfielder and designated hitter for the team. He ended with a .379 average and had four homers, five triples and two doubles while driving in 17 runs. He hit safely in nine games in a row.

"He turned out to be our clutch hitter. He'd offer you some intangible things that didn't show up on the charts," O'Neill said. "He's a great competitor."

Going into the final game, PHS had the first four in its order hitting over .300. Jon Miller, who O'Neill described as "the best shortstop in the county for my money" ended at .295 while Phox slumped to .273. As a team, PHS batted .271--33 points higher than last year and 73 higher than when O'Neill took over four years ago.

Kandell, Dave Miller, Jon Miller and Phox were named to the first team in the Colonial Valley Conference, where PHS finished 9-3, one game behind Notre Dame (10-2). Kandell, who will continue his career at Trenton State, was also named to the first All County team.

O'Neill, who had groomed this team for three years, loses heavily through graduation. Dave Miller, co-captain with Kandell, will attend Wagner College; Phox will enter Wake Forest; Jon Miller, Swarthmore. John Rosenthal and Tommy Breithaupt are both headed for Randolph-Macon in Virginia while catcher Jamie Robertson will enroll in O'Neill's alma mater, Hope College, in Holland, Michigan.

Carl Nazzaro, a hard-luck pitcher sidelined with a wrist injury when he was struck by a ball before the start of the season and wound up pitching only one and one-third innings, will enter Farleigh Dickinson.

TURNER SECOND BEST

In Long Jump. In the NJSIAA Group 2 state track championships held Saturday, Princeton High's Barry Turner finished in second place with a leap of 21-9¼ to earn his team's only points. Asbury Park won the Group 2 crown with 27.

Turner had been in first place until he was bumped by Chris Vasser of Lower Cape May. Newt Stewart of Hopewell Valley, who had topped Turner a week earlier to win the Group 2 Sectional Meet, finished fifth this time with a 20-9 effort.

The top five finishers in each event will compete Thursday in the All-Group Meet which will be held on Princeton University's new track in Palmer Stadium.

TENNIS TIP

Return Drop Shots Down the Line

After you've scrambled to retrieve drop shots, don't waste all that energy by trying to out-angle or out drop-shot your opponent. Return drop shots deep down-the-line. This way you reduce the angle of Possible returns. If you return a drop shot short or cross-court, your opponent will have an open court in which to blast an easy winner. Make your return deep and you'll be in a winning position yourself.

In its final dual meet of the season, PHS defeated Hightstown, 83-39.

Andy Logan won the 120 high hurdles in 16.1 to lead a PHS sweep in that event and also captured the high jump. Mark Knudsen and Bob Ayling both cleared 12 feet to lead a PHS sweep of the pole vault, while Keith Phox won the 100 in 10.7 and finished second in the 220. Teammate Rob Wyland won the 220 in 23.5–another event the Little Tigers swept.

Other first place finishers for the Blue and White were Bill Ogilvie in the mile, brother Brad Ogilvie in the 880, John Kellogg in the two-mile, Turner in the long jump, and Bernie Chen in the 330 intermediate hurdles. PHS also won the mile relay in 3:42.

DEVITO TO STEP DOWN

As PDS Soccer Coach. In the past few years, sports have tended to make more news off the field than on it, virtually all of it involving disputes of one kind or another. It makes for lively stories.

Perhaps, that is why a more or less routine announcement by Tom DeVito that he would not be coaching the Princeton Day soccer team next fall was blown so far out of proportion in a story in Friday's Trenton Times. Perhaps, DeVito, because of his intense love for coaching, led the Trenton Times reporter to believe he was bitter about the whole situation.

What ever the reason, DeVito is sorry the whole thing ever happened,, and so is everyone else.

The facts are simple. Because his wife will be stopping work next October to have a baby, DeVito will need to supplement his own income. To do this he plans to referee high school soccer games, hoping to make around $150 a week. This will force him to give up his unpaid post as PDS soccer coach. He will still continue to teach physical education at the school.

DeVito has told the school he only will do this for one year, and then will return to the coaching program again, possibly at the junior level. Jayvee coach John Jamieson will be elevated to head coach, but would not be expected to give up the position when DeVito returns.

PDS Coach Tom DeVito

On the surface, it's not the kind of story that would normally attract much attention. But, for whatever reason, PDS's policy of not paying coaches for their work with teams became the central issue. It's a policy followed by many, but not all private schools. Unionized public school teachers are paid for coaching.

To top it off, phrases like "preppy people", "prep school mentality", "old-line ideas" and "archaic" found their way into the article. That's music to the ears of people who resent the existence of private schools, but it didn't please DeVito.

He was aware of the policy when he first when to the school and realizes it is likely to continue.

"I have coached for six years with the understanding that I would not be reimbursed," Devito commented. I know next year when I go back to coaching I will not be paid, and I accept this. Coaching is something I cherrish.

"I'm proud to be a part of PDS, its physical education department and its coaching staff. I feel my success in coaching is due in large part to the fine support I have received from the PDS community. The administration and faculty have always given tremendous support for athletic programs.

"I feel badly about not being able to coach next year, but I'll be happy to return the following fall at any level I'm needed. I'll miss the team, but I know they will be well coached by John Jamieson."

One thing not at issue is DeVito's record. In six seasons, including two as jayvee coach, he has compiled an overall record of 64-12-10, with two unbeaten seasons and three state titles.

LACROSSE BID FAILS

PHS Ousted by Montclair. It's happened before in every sport--when a challenger enjoys early success against the champion and suddenly decides he can take him out–and it happened last week to the Princeton High School lacrosse team.

The champion was Montclair, 17-1 this season, 20-0 last year, 75-4 during the past four and the defending state champion. PHS, the challenger, hadn't played Montclair in two years. "We've been waiting for them for three years," PHS coach Bill Cirullo had commented.

The Little Tigers got their chance in the semi-final round of the NJSIAA state competition last week. PHS had hoped to grab the lead and then play slow-down against the hard-charging Montclair club.

When PHS looked impressive in grabbing an early 3-0 lead, "it was exactly what I wanted," Cirullo recalled. For PHS, however, the temptation was too much. "Our offense decided they were going to run with them," continued Cirullo.

8 Straight Goals. The result was not what the PHS offense had in mind. Montclair ran off eight consecutive goals to take a 9-4 lead at the half and take PHS out of the game.

In the second half, Cirullo said he felt his team controlled the ball more and outplayed Montclair. It outscored the home team, 5-4. "It got interesting for awhile when the score was 12-9," said Cirullo, "but they had the momentum going."

Montclair scored again on a fast break to ice it. The final tally was Montclair 13, PHS 9. We had our chances," commented Cirullo, "but they're good. Very good."

PHS finished with an 8-2 regular season mark and 9-4 overall. It was also 9-4 last year, which up to then had been its best season ever. This year's team had more scoring balance, according to Cirullo, as it connected for 137 goals in 13 games.

Morris High scorer. Midfielder Johnny Morris led PHS in scoring with 47 points–"as good as any member on the Montclair team"–said Cirullo. Against Montclair, Morris scored four goals and had an assist. The other five goals were all single tallies.

Doug Firstenberg was second in scoring with 39

500 to Enter Fete Race

Homer Zink, chairman of the "Hospital Feet" Race Committee, reports that 425 entries have registered for this Saturday's 10-kilometer race to be held in conjunction with the Hospital Fete.

With entries still coming in, it is estimated that approximately 500 runners will participate. For those who have not yet mailed in entry forms, post entries will be accepted.

A large map of the course may be seen at the Nassau Savings and Loan Association office at 194 Nassau. The race, which will begin at 3, will start and finish at the Fete grounds.

The course will include the tow path along the Delaware-Raritan Canal, the University cross-country path along the north side of Lake Carnegie as well as a loop around Broadmead, Western Way and Palmer Stadium.

An awards ceremony will be held after the finish. Those wishing to help patrol the course during the race should contact either Alan Zimmermann at 924-4966 or Sue Tarr at 924-8258.

points, followed by Bobby Campbell with 36. "In my opinion," stated Cirullo, "Morris, Campbell and Cahill (Chris Cahill ended with 16 points) are probably the best midfield in the state." All are seniors.

Others departing include Firstenberg and Pierre Muri (21 points), both attackmen, and middies Chris McDonald and Corey Easter. Also, Robert Mooney, Jim Rosenberg, Jon Diamond and Keith Wadsworth, the latter an outstanding defensive player.

"If we had controlled the ball more when we had a 3-0 lead, I think it might have been a different story," said Cirullo after the final game. But PHS didn't, and now he has to think of next spring. Does he have enough coming back to win again?

"I think so," replied Cirullo. The jayvee team had a 6-4 season and we have some good players down there. We'll make some adjustments next year.

"I did play mostly seniors this year because I thought we had a chance for the state championship. We missed the finals by one this year. Maybe next year."

CHAMPIONS NAMED

In Princeton Soccer Club. Final league matches and championship games were played last week in all six leagues of The Princeton Soccer Club.

In the Cub League, Toy Carousel finished on top with a 5-1-2 record, edging Woodwinds, which ended 5-2-1, and Punchinello, 4-2-2. LaVake Jewelers was fourth at 3-5-0, Edward's Jewelers fifth at 2-4-2 and Dockside Fish Market sixth at 2-5-1.

In the Youth League, Jay's Cycles edged out Allen's by one game in the regular season and defeated Allen's again in the playoffs. Laidlaw-Coggeshall and Nassau Hobby tied for third while Hulit's and Kopp's finished fifth and sixth.

In the Junior League, Princeton Florist was the champion with a 4-1-2 mark, bettering Nassau Inn, which was 4-2-1. Gus Enterprises was third at 2-3-2 and Kepner Tregoe followed at 1-5-1.

In the Intermediates, Commodities Corporation went the entire season without a defeat. Rosedale Mills, Lahiere's and Franklin State Bank ended in a three-way tie for second.

The Seniors had separate programs for boys and girls. L.C. Bowers and Princeton Savings and Loan Association tied for the title in the Senior High League, with John T. Henderson, First National Bank, New Jersey National Bank, and Nassau Savings and Loan Association following in that order. In the Senior High girls group, Firestone squeaked by Peyton in a battle of real estate teams to finish first while Callaway ended third and Weidel fourth.

PHS PLACES FIVE

On CVC 1st Tennis Team. Princeton High School, which has never lost a Colonial Valley Conference tennis match, dominates the first team selections by league coaches.

Scott Clark and Allen Aronovic were named to the first team singles and Abe Witonsky and Peter Wilson to the first team doubles. In addition, Roger Dinella and Larry Edelman are on the second team doubles and Seth Thaler is on the third team singles.

Only two graduate from the 1978 PHS team that won the CVC title, but was stopped in its bid to repeat as Group 2 state champion, when it was upset a week ago by Bernardsville.

One is Aronovic, who finished three years on the varsity with a fine 55-5 record. One of the five losses was in the crucial 3-2 defeat by Bernardsville. "Allen just couldn't get going in the match," commented PHS coach Joe Diefenhach. He lost 1-6, 4-6.

Scott Clark, probably the finest high school player in the county although only a sophomore, is 35-3 after two years. He, too, stumbled against Bernardsville, losing to an old nemesis, Steve Tourdo. Clark had won the first set, 6-3, and was tied at 5 in the second when he suffered a pulled muscle. He went on to lose, 7-5, and dropped the third set, 6-1.

Both doubles combos won easily against Bernardsville, including the tandem of Peter Wilson, the other senior on the squad, and sophomore Richard Diefenderfer. Their scores were 6-1, 6-2. Town Topics had erroneously reported that Wilson had been teamed with Witonsky.

NOT A GREAT YEAR

But Hun Goes Out a Winner. If, as they say, you remember the last game the longest, then the Hun school baseball team may forget the rest of the '78 season.

Hun edged Lawrence High School, 2-1, in extra innings last week in its final game of the year. "It was a super win for the final game," agreed Hun coach Bill McQuade, who added, "I hate to see the season end. We won four out of our last six and were starting to play good baseball."

Despite the surge, Hun ended with a 6-12-1 record. Another bleak season seems unlikely because McQuade will welcome back seven sophomores, six of whom saw plenty of action this year, including next year's co-captains, Anthony Bevilacqua and Angelo Barbero.

Barbero, a catcher, batted .340 while shortstop Bevilacqua, who McQuade has already described as one of the best players he has ever coached at Hun, finished a point back at .339. "It's the first time we've had underclassmen as captains since I've been here," observed McQuade.

Well-Played Contest. The game with Lawrence was well played by both teams, McQuade said. Lawrence scored an unearned run in the first on a walk, hit, error on a pickoff attempt and sacrifice fly. The Cardinals made it stand up until the seventh.

Paul Sumners opened Hun's last chance with a walk. Pinch-runner Mike Pallotti stole second but was thrown out at third. After another walk and stolen base, captain Bob Innocenzi singled home the tying run. He almost scored himself, but was thrown out at the plate.

Hun won it in the eighth. Barbero fanned, but was safe when the catcher missed the ball. He advanced to second on a wild pitch and came all the way home when the Cardinal first baseman was late in fielding Fred Wollman's grounder.

Wollman, the workhorse of the thin Hun pitching staff, got the win -- his fifth against six defeats. "Wollman did a super job at the end of the season," said McQuade.

Seniors who played their last game include Wollman, Innocenzi, outfielder Tom West, who batted .275, and infielder Rick Arenas (.245).

Sophomores joining Barbero and Bevilacqua are Dave Wheaton, Tommy Zahn, Dave Iorio, Keith Duvin and Sumners. Jim Mahoney, a junior outfielder, also returns.

The big question mark for next year will again be the mound corps. Duvin is the only one with any experience.

Stony Brook Bridge

urging repair of the present old bridge. She said this week that the county has never replied.

If Federal and state money is provided for a new bridge, the Township will still have to pay for re-aligning the approach roads and acquiring the land. No money has been assigned to these projects in the Township's capital budget.

A major problem here is the Stony Brook flood plain. New bridge plans would probably have to go through the channels of the Department of Environmental Protection, as well as the Department of Transportation.

A Temporary Solution? Meanwhile, five years is a long time. Mayor Hall hopes the county will explore the possibility of a temporary bridge, along the lines of those used by the Army Corps of Engineers.

It's only been a week since the county closed the bridge, and Mayor Hall's phone has been ringing with calls from people upset about traffic problems. The Lawrenceville Road now has traffic that Mercer Road once had. Province Line Road has become a kind of bridge as drivers who once used the old bridge, now use that road to get from Mercer to Stockton.

THIS IS A HOLE: Not just a pot-hole, but a HOLE, with water down there under the Stony Brook bridge. Mercer County engineers have covered it with a heavy steel plate.

ETS SEEKS APPLICANTS

For Study of 4-Year Olds. Next fall the Educational Testing Service (ETS) Child Care Research Center will expand its research program to study gifted 4 - year - olds. The Center is seeking a small number of eligible applicants.

For the past four years, psychologists and teachers at ETS have been conducting research on children's behavior to try to develop more effective instructional programs for preschool classrooms. But, up to now, the program has been designed specifically for the typical 4 - year - old.

The objectives of the new research program are to increase knowledge about patterns of thinking in gifted preschoolers, to observe how they get along with their peers, and to develop instructional programs suited to their various talents.

Separate morning and afternoon sessions are held four days a week. Currently about 40 youngsters attend classes at the Center. Parents who are interested in finding out more about the program are invited to call Dr. Carol Capple at 921-9000, ext. 2179.
